ALLIES CLAIM FAVOR IN TIDE OF BATTLE

London, Oct. 20.—(1:34 p. m.)—Nothing has been received up to the present time from the German intelligence department to counteract the British impression conveyed in the news, both official and unofficial here that the tide of battle both in the eastern and the western theatres is not for the moment flowing in favor of Germany.

The picture, however, continues so blurred that it is impossible except for the commanders on the spot accurately to guage the effect of the momentary change on the ultimate result, so it may very well be that the German general staff when it considers the time right, will present a scene of an entirely different aspect.

The Belgian minister at London has no confirmation of the story that the allies have reoccupied Ostand, but in any case the Germans hold on that seaport must be somewhat precarious if the allies retain the positions assigned to them in the latest French statements.

Should the allies push their wedge beyond Roulers, where its point rested yesterday, Ostend would be in considerable danger of being cut off from the rest of the German army.

The Germans are making great efforts to break through their opponents' lines in the neighborhood of Arras where, as Gen. Joffre's statement points out, fighting has proceeded for ten days without a respite.

News Is Negative.

News of the conflict of millions of men along the Vistula river, in Russian Foland, is mostly of a negative character. Each of the vast armies claims its opponents are on the defensive. The Austrians for the moment are claiming far more success against the Russians than are the Germans, but even admitting the correctness of their claims their army, which alleged to be driving the Muscovites out of the Carpathian mountains, still are at least 70 miles south of Przemysl and Lemberg.

Further to the southward the Servians are utilizing all their available strength in a general assault on Sarajevo. They are especially desirous of being in possession of the Bosnian capital before the court has given its decision in the trial of Gavrio Prinzip, whose assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the Austrian heir-apparent, was the direct excuse for the war of the nations.

That significance attaches to the announcement that Canada will keep sending batches of volunteer reinforcements each numbering 10,000 men so long as the war lasts, is fully appreciated in comments heard both in London and on the continent.

GERMANS PROUD OF NAVY.

Loss of Torpedo Boats Not Held as Serious Blow.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—(By Wireless to Sayville)—Press information given out today in German official circles says:

"Although the news of the fate of the German torpedo boats, S-115, S-117, S-118 and S-119, which were sunk by British warships off the Dutch coast, has aroused feelings of deep regret throughout the German empire, the loss of the ships will rather increase than decrease the pride of the Germans for their navy. The crews are much bemoaned, but the vessels were old and of little value.

"Senator Strands, of Hamburg, has been appointed civil governor of Antwerp.

"Two Belgian majors have related to a war correspondent of the Nieuewe Rotterdamsche Courant that one half of the Belgian army has been interned in Holland. A quarter of the whole army has deserted, they declare, and the last quarter is so disorganized that they are only a burden to the British and the French armies.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

That the allies are frustrating the attempt of the reinforced extreme right wing of the German army to reach the English cannel with the supposed object of finding a new route to Paris, is indicated by the French official statement given out this afternoon, which asserts that the Belgian army is maintaining its position on the river Yser. Further actions, the statement adds, are being fought between the allies and the Germans in the region of Ypres, Belgium. From Ypres the allied left wing extends to the English channel, where it is being supported by British naval forces.

Along the remainder of the battle front, stretching from the North sea to Switzerland, where the defenders and invaders have been entrenched for 37 days, the only activity noted is that in the region of the Meuse river, where heavy firing goes on incessantly, principally in the vicinity of camp des Romains.

French batteries at St. Mihiel, south of Verdun, are reported to have destroyed an entire battery of German artillery, which had been active in sweeping the French lines.

There is a dearth of news from German sources concerning the operations of Emperor William's forces, either in France or in Russia.

A huge conflict is in progress along the Vistula river, in Russian Poland. Dispatches from Petrograd declare that after fierce fighting to the west of Warsaw the Germans have been driven back towards their main positions on a line from Skiernewice, near Lodz, to Sandomir, on the Galician border.

Tokio officially announces that the German torpedo boat S-90, after escaping under cover of darkness from Tsing Tau, ran ashore at a point south of Kiao Chow bay and was destroyed by the Japanese blockading squadron. It was the S-90, according to a message from Tsing Tau, which sunk the Japanese cruiser Tackachiho.

Advices from Bucharest, Roumania, by way of Berlin, reiterates earlier reports that a big Russo-Turkish naval engagement has been fought in the Black sea.

James W. Gerard, the American ambassador at Berlin, has succeeded in arranging for the release and departure of all Englishmen in Germany over 55 years of age. Similar exchanges have been arranged for the nationals of France and Austria.

Berlin announces that German warships sank a British submarine in the North sea last Sunday.

CARMAN TRIAL IS MOVING RAPIDLY

State is Rushing Matters in Case of Accused Woman.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Speed almost unparalleled in a murder trial marked the second day's forenoon session in the trial of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, the defendant's husband, in Freeport, on June 30 last.

In two and a half hours the district attorney made his address to the jury and a dozen witnesses testified for the state. The star witnesses for the prosecution, however, were yet to take the stand, as District Attorney Smith seemed to have decided to, develop the state's case in chronological sequence.

The first witnesses, therefore, simply established the whereabouts of the victim on the day of the murder, her death, its cause—a bullet wound—and but few of the details of the crime.

Elizabeth Coleman, the negro maid in the Garman household, and two other witnesses upon whom the state leans heavily, were to take the stand it was believed, this afternoon.

Mrs. Varance testified that on April 20 last, before coming into the office to slap her, Mrs. Carman rattled the same window through which Mrs. Bailey was afterwards shot.

Tabernacle to be Erected at Ewing and Main Streets for Great Union Gospel Meetings.

Mr. Pitzer, advance agent for the evangelist, will arrive in Fort Wayne some time in November to superintend the erection of the building, which will be made of rough lumber so built that it can be easily taken down without serious injury to the material. No floor will be put in the building, but the ground will be levelled and covered with a heavy layer of shavings. The building will be heated with large stoves and furnished in every way to make everyone comfortable.

At the meeting of the executive committee for the union revival meetings, C. H. Worden was elected treasurer and W. E. Doud, chairman of the building committee. Rev. C. C. Travis, chairman of the prayer meeting committee, has mapped out his plans of operation and presented them. Previous to the meetings, which begin December 27, a number of public meetings will be held at which time laymen from various cities where Dr. Lyons has worked will tell some interesting facts about the results and happenings in their city.

W. B. Merrill, of the Fort Wayne Bill Posting company, very kindly offered to remove his bill boards from the lot during the meetings to make room for the building, and also offered to post all bills free of charge.

VILLA MOVES HIS ARMY UP

IS NOW PREPARED TO ENVELOP CITY

May Imprison Entire Conference If It Doesn't Do His Bidding.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 20.—The Mexican consulate here today received a report from Mexico City stating that Gen. Francisco Villa created a panic among the delegates to the convention of military chiefs in Aguas Calientes today by moving an army of 18,000 men into position where he can envelop the city and imprison the entire conference.

Villa's army is reported to be within an hour's march of Aguas Calientes. To oppose him there are Carranza's troops at Monterey and Saltillo, but it would take from four to five hours to get them to Aguas Calientes.

Appeal to Carranza.

According to the message to the consulate here the delegates at Aguas Calientes, who include many chiefs of the constitutionalist army, have made an appeal to Carranza to guarantee their freedom during the convention, which was resumed today.

WILSON SIGNS ALASKAN BILL

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today signed the Alaskan coal land leasing bill, opening the coal fields of Alaska. Because of restrictions put on the output of coal from Canada to Alaska, since the European war began, the bill was hurried through congress at the request of Secretary Lane and several western senators.

The war revenue bill went forward another step today when the house sent it to conference with the senate managers disagreeing to all amendments. Speaker Clark appointed Representatives Underwood and Kitchin, democrats, and Payne, republican, as conferees.

BELGIANS IN THE FIGHTING

Paris, Oct. 20.—(2:25 p. m.)—The French official communication this afternoon says the Belgian army is holding its position on the river Yser. The official communication follows:

"In Belgium, in spite of violent attacks on the part of the enemy the Belgian army has held its position on the line of the river Yser.

"On the Meuse the enemy has endeavored in vain to drive back the advance points of our troops, who have moved out along the right bank of this stream in the peninsula of the Camp des Romains.

"To sum up, during the day of October 19, we have made progress at various points on the front.

Russia.—In East Prussia and on the Vistula river there is no change in the situation. The efforts of the Austrians to cross the river San have been repulsed. The battle south of Przemysl is continuing under conditions favorable to the Russians."

Belgians Win French Praise.

Increasing satisfaction was shown by the people of Paris today on reading the late reports from the front. These indicate that the allies are continuing their offensive operations which in the opinion of French observers promise the best results. The action of the Belgian army and of a squadron of British warships in repulsing an attack by the enemy is a subject of favorable comment.

Word has been received that the Germans are hastily preparing new defensive works around Strassburg and digging innumerable trenches in front of this city. Vineyards have been levelled by the German engineers in carrying out this work.

The fighting in the vicinity of Lille has been watched with deep interest here and it is hoped that not many days will pass before the allies take this position.

FOES REPULSED, ASSERTS BERLIN

Amsterdam, Oct. 20.—The following official communication from Berlin, dated Oct. 20, has been received in Amsterdam:

"The Germans advancing along the coast from Ostend met hostile forces at the Yser river, near Nieuport, where fighting has been going on since last Sunday. "Yesterday the attacks of the enemy west of Lille were repulsed, the enemy suffering heavy losses. In the eastern theatre of the war there has been no material change."

New York, Oct. 20.—The taking of testimony in the trial of Jared Flagg, accused by the government of fraudulent use of the mails was delayed today when several members of the tentative jury selected yesterday were peremptorily challenged—four by the government and three by the defense. The work of filling their places was expected to take the rest of the day. Flagg is charged with Daniel N. Morgan, former United States treasurer, and six others, with swindling stock investors. Flagg is being tried first.

BOTH LINES STILL FIGHTING FIERCELY

London, Oct. 20.—(10:00 a. m.)—The plunging Germans' attacks on the allied line near the Belgian coast between Nieuport and Dixmude, similar tactics by the allies in France between Arras and Roye, where progress is claimed, a continued allied assault on Lille, still held by the Germans, and stubborn fighting in the vicinity of St. Mihiel, where for days the allies have been trying to drive the Germans from their southernmost lodgment, were the acute points today in the sprawling battle area of France and Belgium.

The communications issued in behalf of the allies last night enabled Britons to visualize for the first time in ten days the approximate battle line after crossing the Belgian frontier and showed how the allies during the days of censorship were throwing their forces westward to meet the inevitable German advance which followed the taking of Ostend.

The fighting is now centering only a few miles southwest of that city and the Belgian army, heretofore reported as having repulsed the Germans on the banks of the river Yser, is again in the thick of the fight, being credited with bending back the German line as far as Roulers, Belgium, thirteen miles northwest of Courtrai, which point they are holding, according to the latest reports available when this dispatch was written.

A dispatch dated merely "North of France" says that the allies have retaken Ostend, but this is not confirmed and is at variance with the German contention that they have reached the neighborhood of Dunkirk, whose inhabitants, as well as those of Boulogne, are in a state of panic. If the Belgians are holding Roulers it seems incredible that the Germans have advanced so far as that would mean a complete bending back of the allied left which rests on the coast west of Ostend.

Torrential rains have been falling recently near the scene of the coast fighting, making the flat country a sea of mud and this, with the network of canals, makes the movement of German guns extremely difficult. The Germans, however, are still bringing up reinforcements, a message from Amsterdam saying that troops of all arms are steadily moving westward between Wetteren and Teronde, towards the French frontier. It was added that the men were of all ages and were accompanied by heavy guns, supposed for Ostend.

The London press is unanimously hailing the German attempt to sweep through Belgium to the north France coast towns as a failure. It may be true that the progress from Ostend has been slower than the usual impetuous German rush, but it seems premature to say that they have failed until something more decisive occurs between Roulers and the coast or one side or the other strikes a sharp blow to the south.

News from the east shows no notable change in the battle lines there. The Russians contend that the Germans are still held on the Vistula and San rivers.

JAPS GET REVENGE ON GERMAN CRAFT

Tokio, Oct. 20.—It was announced officially in Tokio today that the German torpedo boat S-90, which, after destroying the Japanese cruiser Takachiho, escaped from Tsing Tau under cover of darkness, had been found aground and destroyed by the Japanese at a point sixty miles south of Kiao Chow bay.

The mast of the cruiser is visible above the water. It is believed that she ventured too close to the harbor.

COLONEL TALKS FOR BEVERIDGE

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Col. Roosevelt's hurried auto trip through northern Indiana yesterday was pretty much an ovation all the way. In all the smaller towns men, women and children lined the single streets to get a look at the "Big Bull Moose." In the larger towns, the manufacturing centers, large crowds of workers choked the main street along which the Roosevelt party passed.

At Gary 2,000 people tried to crowd into the theater, and half as many more were on the outside. At Hammond on the way home 5,000 people had congregated in the parkway around the public library. The colonel was in a hurry and did not stop, only rising in his automobile and bowing to the big throng. They shouted for a speech, but he shook his head and pointed to his watch.

Appeal for Beveridge.

The purpose of the Indiana trip was to make an appeal in behalf of Albert J. Beveridge, moose candidate for the United States senate post.

"I am glad of this opportunity to be with you Indiana folks," Col. Roosevelt said in his main speech at the Gary theater, "because I consider Indiana as progressive today as California. I am glad of the opportunity also to speak for Mr. Beveridge, who is making precisely the same fight here in Indiana that we made two years ago and that I am now making in New York. It is a fight for decent popular government."

Then the colonel ripped into the two old parties, burning all his bridges and serving notice on the republican leaders that he was out of the republican party for all time.

"Men of all parties," he said, "might just as well make up their minds now that the progressive party is here to stay. It is here just as the republican party succeeded the old whig party when Abraham Lincoln was elected president."

Says Only Moose Can Run Nation.

Taking up the platforms of the old parties, Col. Roosevelt said neither the republican nor the democratic party as constituted today could run the government in the interests of all the people.

"I have been amused by the claim that the republican leaders put out to the effect that the republican party is coming back," Mr. Roosevelt said. "That is not true. The republican party is not coming back, but is going back, while the progressive party is going forward. It does not look back or go back.

"We said two years ago that the democratic party could not administer this government well, and it hasn't. We told you the truth then. We insist today that reactionary and vicious influences control the republican party, and selfish interests dominate the democratic party in congress."

SAYS WILSON HAS MERELY STARTED

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 20.—A special train carrying Wm. J. Bryan, secretary of state, and members of the Kansas state democratic committee, left here today for a tour of southeastern Kansas. Mr. Bryan began the day, the second of his present visit to that state with an early morning speech at Kansas City, Kan.

"The work of President Wilson has only started," he said. "To carry it on we are urging the people of Kansas to send more democrats to Washington.

"The last time I appeared here I acted as attorney for the prosecution. Now I appear to justify and defend the acts of the administration of Mr. Wilson."

Incendiaries Wreck St. Charles Borromeo's Edifice at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Fire which wrecked St. Charles Borromeo's Catholic church yesterday was pronounced by the police last night to have been of incendiary origin. The police are also planning to reopen an investigation into a fire October 12, which burned St. Jarlath's Catholic church and which started in somewhat similar circumstances as yesterday's blaze.

St. Charles Borromeo's church had been closed for several months. The blaze started in the interior of the organ.

The police in investigating commented on the reports from New York where on October 13 dynamite bombs were exploded in St. Patrick's cathedral and St. Alphonsus church.

VOGEL FAMILY ASKS AUTOPSY

Coroner Will Seek Cause of Sudden Death of Indicted Man.

New York, Oct. 20.—On orders from Coroner Hellenstein, issued, it was stated, at the request of the family, physicians today will perform an autopsy to determine the cause of the death last night of Frank E. Vogel, who with his business associate, Henry Siegel, was to have gone on trial this month on indictments charging grand larceny and receiving bank deposits while insolvent, in connection with their department stores in this city.

Vogel, with his wife, who was Miss Blanche Siegel, a niece of his partner, and their two children, returned on Sunday to New York from their country home in Briar Cliff. Vogel was then in his usual health and apparently in good spirits. Yesterday he rose at his usual hour, went down town on business and after luncheon went, as was his practice, for a walk. He returned to his hotel apartment about 5 o'clock and a few minutes later was stricken. Heart disease was given as the cause of death. Vogel and Henry Siegel were each under 14 indictments which followed the failure of the Siegel stores and banks.

Early in the summer the two bankers and merchants asked for a change of venue in their trial, alleging they could not get justice here. This was granted June 1 and the trial was set for this month at Geneseo, Livingston county.

Emerson Dietrich, was found in a cage of lions in a show of which he was manager while in Chicago and it was stated at that time that the lions attacked and killed him.

According to the dispatch from Boston the trainer, in what is purported to be a confession, declared he threw young Dietrich's body into the cage after killing him.

WILSON WELCOMES BAR ASSOCIATION

Washington, Oct. 20.—With an address of welcome by President Wilson, with former President Taft in the chair and the entire supreme court sitting as guests of honor, the American Bar association today began its annual session here.

In his introduction of President Wilson Mr. Taft pledged the association's earnest co-operation and its deepest personal confidence in the president's ability and purpose to guide the ship of state safely through the European crisis. Mr. Taft declared the American people were back of the president in his handling of the international situation and that he had the confidence of the nation.

President Wilson's response was that his strength rested in the confidence of the people. He pleaded for the "humanizing of the law" in this time of international crisis, not only as respect to international law, but as to municipal law.

His reference to himself as a lawyer, who had reformed, brought froth tumultous applause. He said the world was now "stirred to its depths," but that the best course for a nation to pursue was the disinterested part. He added that the unsettled world conditions made a good time for freeing the law from the dry consideration of cold precedents and injecting into it more of the view points of justice for the ordinary man.

"The opinion of the world is the mistress of the world; and the processes of international law are the slow processes by which opinion works its will," said President Wilson.

"What impresses me is the constant thought that that is the tribunal at the bar of which we all sit. I would call your attention, incidentally, to the circumstances that it does not observe the ordinary rules of evidence which has sometimes suggested to me that the ordinary rules of evidence had shown some signs of growing antique.

"Everything, rumor included, is heard in this court, and the standard of judgment is not with regard to the character of the testimony but the character of the witness. The motives are disclosed, the purposes are conjectured, and that opinion is finally accepted which seems to be, not the best founded in law perhaps, but the best founded in integrity of character and of morals. That is the process which is slowly working its will upon the world and what we should be watchful of is not so much jealous interests as sound principles of action. The disinterested course is always the biggest course to pursue, not only, but it is in the long run the most profitable course to pursue.

FRENCH BATTERIES TELLING IN EFFECT

On the Battle Front, Via Paris, Oct. 20.—On the eastern wing, along the Meuse, heavy fighting is incessant and in this the French artillery is playing a most important part. The concentrated fire of several French batteries at St. Mihiel Monday destroyed a complete battery of heavy German artillery, which had been causing great annoyance.

It was due to the clever work of a French artilleryman that this was accomplished. Carrying a portable field telephone he hid himself for two days near the German position and informed his comrades in his rear of the positions of the German guns and the direction in which they should fire. This information rendered the German position untenable and when his work was done the brave gunner returned safely to the French lines.

The scenes behind the battle lines denote the characteristics of the various nations engaged. The French soldiers are very gay, singing when they return from the trenches and always seeking to learn the news from any new arrival from the rear. They gather branches from bushes to make fires on which they boil their soup and coffee.

The Belgians are somewhat the same in character, but the recent damage to so many cities in Belgium has rendered them rather gloomy, though they are still full of fight and sure of eventual victory.

The British appear to be ready to seize the slightest opportunity to play some game when off actual duty. They are always cleanly shaven and love to plunge into a creek or river. Behind their trenches are many kneading troughs captured from the German commissariat and turned into tubs.

The Indian troops maintain a calm silence, except when in action. Then they utter wild cries in their eastern languages as they enter the fight. The Moroccan auxiliaries, known as "Goumiers," maintain all their African habits. They apparently are always ready to rest anywhere that they may find themselves, but sleep with the bridle over their arm and spring into action at the slightest movement or noise.

Albion, Ind., Oct. 20.—The taking of testimony began today in the Noble circuit court before Judge Luke H. Wrigley and a jury of farmers in the case of the State against Charles L. Cushing, a Kendallville market gardener, for the murder of Howard McLaughlin, a 16-year-old lad whose home was in Lansing, Mich. A jury was obtained Monday at 3:30 o'clock with the following in the panel: Edwin Ditmars, Swan township; Albert Johnson, Jefferson township; Charles Bowman, York township; Frank Hanlon, Green township; Bayard T. Kuhn, Albion; George F. Brenninger, Washington township; William O. Prouty, Jefferson township; Irwin Cazier, York township; John Friskney, Green township; John L. Rowe, Green township; Charles Pollock, York township; William Bowen, Albion. All of the jurors except one are farmers. As soon as the jury had been passed by both sides Prosecuting Attorney M. V. Spangler, of Albion, began the presentation of the state's case. Court adjourned in the evening until 9 o'clock this morning, when the examination of witnesses began. Besides Prosecuting Attorney Spangler the state is represented by Deputy Prosecutor Harry F. Helwig, of Kendallville, and Attorneys Grant & Foot, of Albion. For Cushing appear Fred L. Bodehafer, of Kendallville, and Maj. Donn Smith, a well known criminal lawyer of Chicago, who was employed by Dr. Guy Cushing, a well known physician of Chicago and brother of the defendant, to assist in the defense. Young McLaughlin was killed at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of August 12, last, on the Lake Shore railway right of way adjoining the Cushing property. McLaughlin and two young companions were enroute as tramps from Detroit to Elkhart. Hoboes had been raiding the Cushing melon patch and he thought the lads were of the marauders and fired at them, hitting McLaughlin and killing him almost instantly.

AGED WOMAN DIES OF GRIEF.

Loss of a Son Causes Death of Mrs. Steinmetz in Goshen.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Caroline Steinmetz, of Goshen, aged 85 years, is dead. Intense grief over the loss of her son, John Steinmetz, of Goshen, who died Aug. 25, precipitated the illness which caused her death. Because of her precarious condition she was not told of the death of another son, William, who died at South Bend just seven days before her death. She had been in good health until the first death mentioned, after which she began failing rapidly.

Deceased was the widow of Frederick Steinmetz, who died sixteen years ago. She was born in Germany in 1839 and came to this country in 1852. Three weeks after her arrival here she was married to Mr. Steinmetz in Pennsylvania. Since 1859 she had resided in Elkhart county. During her fifty-five years' residence in this vicinity she had become very well known.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 20.—Donald Burns, 21, and William Sullivan, 22, Upland glassworkers, had a narrow escape from death at night when in an intoxicated condition they lay down between the two main tracks of the Pennsylvania lines, near the coal docks, west of the city. The boys were lying in such a position that they would have been struck by a passing train. This was avoided, however, when Railroad Detective Grover Griffith, of this city, and Lieut. Strahle and his brother, Charles Strahle, who is also a railroad sleuth, found the pair and brought them to this city.

DETAINING A BURGLAR.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 20.—Ellsworth Rolston, of Lima, was brought from Willshire to the Van Wert county jail for safe keeping, it being feared that he would make his escape from the prison in that town. Rolston was arrested on a charge of burglarizing the Spitler grocery. Rome City, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mannias Kimmel, formerly a commissioner of Noble county, a wealthy retired farmer and one of the widely known pioneers of Noble county, was stricken while cranking his motor boat on Latta lake, near here, last evening, and fell dead in the bottom of his craft. Heart disease was probably the cause. He was 78 years old and came to this county in an early day. For many years he resided on a farm two miles northeast of Albion, later moving to that town. In recent years he had spent his winters in Florida and his summers at a cottage at this resort. He leaves a son, Grant Kimmel, and a married daughter. HUMAN SYSTEM INJURED BY ONE CUP OF COFFEE

The constant use of coffee and tea tends to increase fatigue products in the human system, says Dr. G. Wilse Robinson, of the University Medical College, Kansas City, Mo.

"Caffeine is used in coffee and tea as a beverage for its stimulating effects. Even in small doses, one cup of coffee or tea per day, the general results of the action of caffeine upon the nervous system are to increase the irritability of the brain.

"In order to respond to the stimulation of regular doses of caffeine, nerve and muscle tissue must draw upon their reserve energy, and they must do their work in the presence of an excessive quantity of toxic fatigue products, and both of these conditions tend to exhaustion and perversion of function.

"Caffeine is not a food to nerve or muscle tissue. It does not increase the elimination of fatigue products, but does increase their production."

NOTE.—Too much cannot be said in favor of the value of an invigorating morning drink, especially during colder weather—but the drink must not be harmful. The food-drink, INSTANT POSTUM, while resembling the better grades of Java in flavor and appearance is pure, wholesome and wholly free from the coffee drugs "caffeine" and "tannin" and is rapidly taking the place of coffee as a table beverage for reasons of health.—Adv.

INTENSE ITCHING OF ECZEMA

Pimples in Clusters. Kept Getting Worse. Clothing Irritated. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed in Two Weeks.

P. O. Box 13, Kimball, Neb.—"My right limb began itching in several places. Then the eczema came in the form of pimples in clusters and after I would scratch them they would form one lump. It kept getting worse. The itching was intense. My clothing irritated the eruption, also the air. I could not sleep.

"I sent to the drug store and got a bottle of so-called ——— ——— which did no good. I tried everything recommended for it but it kept getting worse. A year after the beginning of the itching I was covered with big itching blotches and the itching was terrible. I could do nothing but scratch and the more I scratched the worse it would itch and burn. I saw a testimonial someone had written about being healed of eczema with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. Then I sent to the drug store and got some more. In two days I was better, in a week the itching had stopped and in two weeks the eczema was all gone." (Signed) Mrs. Henry H. Prouty, Apr. 21, 1914.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 19-31.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall entice Ahab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one spake saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.

20 Then there came out a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will entice him. And the Lord said unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he said, I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail; go out, and do even so.

22 Now therefore, behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken evil against thee.

23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near, and smote Micaiah upon the cheek, and said, Which way went the Spirit of the Lord from me to speak unto thee?

24 And Micaiah said, Behold thou shalt see on that day when thou shalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyself.

25 Then the king of Israel said, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joash the king's son;

26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

27 And Micaiah said, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the Lord spoken by me. And he said, Hearken, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, I will disguise myself, and will go to the battle, but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Israel disguised himself; and they went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight ye not with small or great, save only with the king of Israel.

31 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel. Therefore they compassed about him to fight: but Jehoshaphat cried out, and the Lord helped him; and God moved them to depart from him.

Coming Changes in Congress.

Whatever shall be the outcome of the congressional elections this fall, the next house is certain to be a vastly changed body. Some thirty democrats who have been conspicuous in the work during the long session since Wilson assumed the presidential chair will not be of the house membership when the new session convenes in March. Some of them are going to the senate, and some of them will retire to private life, but the change in personnel is going to be striking.

The president will need to look about for a new democratic house leader on account of the elevation of Representative Underwood to a senatorship from Alabama. As chairman of the powerful ways and means committee Mr. Underwood has easily been the one foremost figure in engineering the democratic legislative program. He has been constantly in the limelight, and on but one occasion —that of the free canal tolls repeal—has he declined to follow the Wilson course. Underwood is tremendousy popular among his political friends and his political foes alike, and there has been the most general recognition of his ability. The house will part with Underwood with profound regret, and it may be difficult to secure a successor who will wield the power of house leadership as skilfully and as wisely as has the Alabama man through the vast legislative undertakings of the present congress.

Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, defeated for the senate, will retire. Sharp, of Ohio, is in France, ready to assume the duties of the ambassadorship. Murray, of Massachusetts, has resigned to become postmaster at Boston. Covington, of Maryland, has been appointed a member of the supreme bench of the District of Columbia, as has also McCoy, of New Jersey. Broussard, of Louisiana, goes to the senate. Murdock, of Kansas, has ended his term of service in the house by running for the senate under an admittedly slim chance of election. Burke, of South Dakota, has rather better chances for the senate. Willis, of Ohio, is the republican nominee for governor in his home state. Bartholdt, of Missouri, has had enough of public life, and will quit.

Regardless of how the elections may turn out, seven men, who now are serving in the senate, will remain at home after March 4. These are Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio; Joseph L. Bristow, of Kansas; Coe I. Crawford, of South Dakota; George C. Perkins, of California; Elihu Root, of New York; Isaac Stephenson, of Wisconsin, and Francis S. White, of Alamaba. Only two of these men desired to be returned to the senate, Bristow and Crawford. Both were defeated at primary elections.

The New Angle on Temperance.

No sooner had England started her soldiers to the front than she curtailed the sale of liquor at home.

Russia, where the czar is the monopoly bartender, closed all the vodka shops while the moujiks were mobilizing; and now George Kennan reports the social results so striking that the closure is to be made permanent. If true, this is the largest "dry" victory yet recorded.

At the recent national "safety first" conference, delegates representing a million workers took a pledge to stay on the water cart—not on moral grounds, but because they felt that booze and safety were better apart.

Sobriety by ukase may be hard to establish and difficult to defend; but the call of safety, of clear headedness, of fitness for the job is a mighty hard thing to [illegible]

PRESS COMMENT ON BOER REBELLION.

"Trouble for a Time."

Boston Herald:—"The mutiny of Colonel Maritz, with a part of the South African defence force under his command, may cause serious trouble for a time, though in the end it will doubtless be crushed along with the German invasion which he seeks to lead.

"Matter of Speculation."

Pittsburg Dispatch:—"To what extent the Boer revolt may grow, must for the moment be a matter of speculation."

"England's Severest Blow."

Baltimore American:—"The outbreak of the new Boer war, the precipitation of the conflict in South Africa into the general war zone, is the severest blow that has happened to England during the present conflict."

"General Botha."

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph:—"It counts for something in favor of the British that General Louis Botha, a commander of the Boer forces in the war with Great Britain, is Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa and as such the practical head of the government, and that he is pro-British."

"The British Blunder."

Boston Advertiser:"-The British government made its blunder when it ordered the Boers to organize and march against the Germans in Africa. Germany countered by offering to re-establish the independent South African Republic which England has destroyed."

"Minor Disturbances."

Buffalo Courier:—"Minor disturbances such as threaten in South Africa may have no preceptible influence on the great conflict in Europe, but they contribute for its character as a world war and complicate affairs."

"Martial Law."

Philadelphia Inquirere:—While the fact that the government has deemed it wise to proclaim martial law throughout the Union indicates that it regards the situation as serious, it will hardly have any difficulty in suppressing the revolt which Germany has fomented."

"Mutiny Will be Confined."

Syracuse Herald:—"As the administration of the South African Union, with General Botha, the one-time Boer commander at the head, is friendly to the British cause, it is probable that the Maritz mutiny will be confined within a local sphere."

INDISPENSABLE HUMAN ELEMENT

(Chicago Herald)

In her address before the National Council of Industrial Safety, now in session in this city, Miss Ida M. Tarbell said: "The secret of eliminating accidents, in my opinion, is one-third safety and two-thirds organization and education."

To put it differently, no matter how we exercise our ingenuity in devising improvements the human element remains by far the most important factor.

This is true not only of the special case Miss Tarbell had in mind. It is true of every devise in politics, business, banking, commerce and social reform.

There is no devise that will relieve men and women of the responsibility of helping to make the machinery of the government work right—and of the major part of the responsibility at that.

There is no form of progressive city charter, though it be studded thick with all the approved devices, that can be expected to do even a third of the work of keeping the city's affairs straight.

There is no species of organization for social betterment that will relieve the people who are to be helped from the necessity of doing a large proportion of the work of bettering themselves.

Wherever we look in the realm of human activity it is the same. Machinery may be improved, but responsibility remains. After the best machinery has been devised and adopted men and women have to see that it works right.

One-third device at the most and two-thirds men and women at the very least —that is an essential fact which States and cities bent on reform forget at their peril.

GIRLISH COMPLEXION NOW EASILY ACQUIRED.

"A skin of blended snow, cream and rose" is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted mercolized wax in place of cosmetics, massage, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous wax report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own," the result of gradually asborbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store in original one ounce package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the wrinkle removing face bath which I recommended recently. If any have mislaid the formula, here it is: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel.—"Natalie" in the Woman Militant.

WHY INDIANA Needs a New CONSTITUTION

Some of the Big Facts of this Question

FACT NO. 3.

The vast benefits expressed in the cost of administering government and in the political, social and industrial progress to come through a new constitution, constitutes one of the most powerful arguments for revision of our present outworn state constitution.

The cost of such a convention, emphasized so strenuously by the opposition, would be but an insignificant item in comparison with the benefits. If the Hoosiers of 1851 had been of the same fearful mind as to cost of a convention, we would today be living in the back woods, buckskin breeches conditions imposed by the original constitution of 1816. The cost of a convention is the necessary and inevitable price of progress in state and community life.

The increased efficiency of municipal government possible through a system of home rule for cities would unquestionably result in a large reduction in cost of administration. Through simplified machinery of state administration other vast savings could be made.

The expense of holding the Ohio constitutional convention of 1912 was $267,571. The special election which ratified the constitution cost $204,956, making a total cost of $472,527. And Ohio has one-third more votes than Indiana. Governor Cox of that state has stated that Ohio effected a saving of $4,000,000 in expense of administration during the first year under the new constitution. This is equal to eight times the cost of securing the constitution.

Taxation experts declare that proper readjustment of our outworn taxation system would place on the tax list enough intangible property that now escapes the assessor to alone pay the cost of a new constitution.

But the more important public benefits to come from a constitutional convention can not, and should not, be measured by dollars and cents standards. The progressive political and social legislation that would eventually result from it; the stimulus it would give to the study of public questions; the awakening of interest on the part of the people in the big problems of citizenship, are much the larger factors.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Henry R. Freeman, teller of the First National bank, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Trainmaster Sol K. Blair accompanied the Nickel Plate pay car on its trip over the western division today.

Master Eddie, son of Capt. J. H. Rohan, fell from a horse last evening and sustained a dislocation of the wrist.

D. M. Miller stated to a Sentinel reporter today that another story would surely be added to the Aveline hotel building in the spring.

It is understood that the Peru Sentinel will be sold to Grant Weissell, of the Warren News, and Peter Pernot, of this city, well known in newspaper circles.

Hon. J. B. White was elected an honorary member of the Forty-fourth Indiana regimental association which has just held its annual reunion in Pierceton.

Fred Crall, of Ashland, O., who came to this city yesterday to visit relatives, has accepted a position as bookkeeper and stenographer in the offices of the Hoosier Manufacturing company.

The blow-out of the natural gas mains yesterday attracted hundreds of people to the reducing station southwest of the city. It was a rich treat for those who never witnessed such a sight.

Gustavus Greensfelder is confined to his home, 95 Ewing street, by serious injuries sustained when he fell from a wagon belonging to Jacob Klett. The heavily loaded vehicle passed over the aged man's body.

At a surprise party held at the home of D. B. Kehler on Spy Run avenue, last evening, that gentleman was presented with a handsome gold watch as a testimonial from his fellow employes in the Fort Wayne Furniture works, of which he is treasurer.

A few days ago it was estimated that there were four hundred car loads of apples along the line of the Lake Shore railroad between Fort Wayne and Hillsdale. The demand for cars in which to ship apples and potatoes in that section is unprecedented.

How To Make the Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Much Better than the Ready-Made Kind and You Save $2. Fully Guaranteed

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and certainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colds, is really remarkable. You can actually feel it take hold. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you—at a cost of only 54 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.50. Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. Tastes good and never spoils.

You will be pleasantly surprised how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, be sure and ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex," and don't accept anything else.

FOOD SOURING IN STOMACH CAUSES INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends all stomach distress in five minutes.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

Honoring Miss Verne Bowser Miss Nellie Wilt, of Forest Park boulevard, opened her home this afternoon and with Miss Virginia Olds and Miss Irma Poole gave a very pretty tea from 3 to 5 o'clock. In the receiving line with the honor guest and hostesses was Miss Virginia Carey, a recent addition to the young society circle who because of her own charm and as a representative of an early prominent family of the city, is making friends rapidly. Miss Mildred Bowser acted as an usher to the diningroom where refreshment was served by Miss Clara Poole, who presided at the table, and by Misses Vera Tresselt and Helen Caldwell. The entire decoration of all the rooms was pink and white cosmos which is in the height of its glory these October days. About forty young women were invited to the tea. Miss Doris Langlois, of Sycamore, Ill., was an out of town guest.

One of the season's most charming young brides is Miss Erin Laughlin, who will wed tomorrow morning in St. Patrick's Catholic church John T. Sullivan, of Richmond. Many parties have been given to honor Miss Laughlin, of which the most recent was a beautiful evening affair at the home of Miss Pauline Pohlmeyer, of Fulton street. There were a number of intimate friends present, of whom Miss Georgiana Lauer, Miss Borgin Lowery and Miss Irene Grimme were assisting hostesses. The entire color plan of this party was in yellow and white and chrysanthemums, tulle bows, yellow candles and place cards in the same coloring all added to the pretty effect. During the evening the company prepared a book of recipes for the bride to take to her new home and use, though she is well skilled in housekeeping ways as it is. Miss Laughlin declared her pleasure would be to concoct the various good things her friends furnished directions for and the book will be another reminder of happy things previous to her marriage. Misses Alba Kessler, Lena Rust, Evelyn Bevington, Loretta Schwartz, Renah Werstein, Ella Wehnert, Helen Gruber, Lillian Pohlmeyer, Mrs. Arthur Mills and Miss Margaret Reed, of New York, made up the company. The wedding of Miss Laughlin and Mr. Sullivan will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in St. Patrick's Catholic church. Miss Catherine Sullivan, of Richmond, a sister of the groom, and Leo Kahoe, of this city, will be the only attendants of the bride and groom other than the ushers. Will Reece and Edward Kahoe. A number of out-of-town guests who have arrived will be Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sullivan, all of Columbus, O.; Mr. and Mrs. William Reece, Miss Catherine Sullivan and Miss Reeda Rittenbaugh, all of Richmond, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Carr, of Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. T. DeWald have come home from an eastern trip.

Mrs. John S. McCurdy has returned from a visit with her parents, in Indianapolis.

Dr. and Mrs. Edlavitch have returned from a visit in Norfolk, Va., and in Baltimore.

Mrs. Glenn Ayers, of Montpelier, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George O. Russell, of South Calhoun street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thacker, of Frankfort, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cavalier, of Jackson street. The ladies are sisters.

Mrs. Walker and Miss Gladys Walker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., are visiting relatives in the city and will be here for about two weeks.

Mrs. E. W. Fitch, of Jeffersonville, who had been visiting her cousins, the Misses Hood, of West Wayne street, for a week, has returned home.

Misses Anita Cahill and Zelpha Ferries entertained the Thi club at Miss Ferries' home in Central drive, on Friday evening, at a marshmallow bake. All enjoyed a merry time.

Ned Williams celebrated his birthday anniversary on Sunday by entertaining a few boys at dinner at his home in Rockhill street. The guests were Kenneth Crighton, Raymond Druhot, Glenn McCarthy, James Olds, Harold Saylor and James White.

Miss Emma Rurode gave an informal, but delightful entertainment at bridge yesterday afterncon in honor of Mrs. Honeywell, of Wabash, who is visiting Mrs. W. M. Griffin. There were players for five tables. Pink chrysanthemums were an effective decoration.

Miss Charlotte Busse, of North Harrison street, celebrated her sixteenth birth anniversary last Saturday afternoon by entertaining a number of her young friends at a theater party and with refreshments afterwards at Aurentz's. The guests were Helen Baral, Ruth Klingman, Florence Wells, Esther Rabus, Louise Busse and Irene Connors.

Miss Marie Soest, whose marriage to Harley H. Smock will take place tomorrow, has chosen as her bridesmaids Miss Bertha Zink, who will be maid of honor; Miss Ruth Smock, a sister to the groom, as bridesmaid. The men of the bridal party will be Carl Soest, as best man; Arthur Altekruse and William Zink as ushers, and Fred Soest, the bride's brother, as groomsman. Rev. J. H. Bosch will be the officiating minister and Mrs. John Rohlman will preside at the organ. A reception will be held at the home of the bride in the country after the wedding service.

Mrs. Amy Randall Seavey has returned from Avilla, where she visited relatives and on Saturday evening arranged a surprise party on her aunt, Mrs. John Hooper, who had attained on that day the eighty-first anniversary of her birth. The guests went prepared with baskets of various and numerous good things for a supper of which all partook and enjoyed. Mrs. Hooper also received many beautiful gifts which she prizes highly. Among the guests were a number from Fort Wayne in addition to Mrs. Seavey, and included her daughter, Mrs. Irma Seavey Merriam, of Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seavey and children, Mrs. Julia Randall.

How quickly Fort Wayne responds when it is offered a top notch triple bill of vaudeville is reflected by the big houses that have been greeting the extraordinary bill now running at the Temple. The show opens with Onra's remarkable trapeze performance, in which this lovely young woman does some thrilling and spectacular stunts on the short bar. Katherine Moore and Dancing Brownie and Joe Christie present some bits of minstrelsy, including a group of songs by Miss Moore and some superb clog dancing by Brownie and Christie. What is unquestionably one of the most delightful musical acts ever heard is the one done by the Musical Geralds. Baby Helen is one of those vaudeville rarities, a child wonder that truly is a wonder. For fun pure and simple, with no attempt at dignity, Martinez and Maxmillian are there. These two clever comedians stage some fake music stuff that is hugely amusing. The week's series of Strand war pictures give some remarkable views of Tremonde after its bombardment.

A COUNTRY PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fruechtenicht Celebrate Silver Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fruechtenicht celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on October 18 by entertaining a company of friends and relatives, the date having been postponed from Oct. 11 owing to an accident by fire at the residence on the first of the month and repairs not being completed in time for the earlier day. Mr. and Mrs. Fruechtenicht live in Adams township. Their marriage took place in Fort Wayne and the late Rev. Bischoff officiated. A big, bountiful dinner was enjoyed and about one hundred and fifty people were present. A collection was taken up for the Red Cross fund and a liberal amount has been forwarded to the national society of that order.

AT THE EMPRESS.

There's no doubt about it—the present Empress bill contains two of the classiest acts ever seen in Fort Wayne. These are James Grady & Co., in "The Toll Bridge" and Russell's Minstrels. And all of the other acts are of superior order.

The sweetest story ever told on a local stage is that told in "The Toll Bridge." The Russell Minstrels are the best in the minstrel line ever seen in Fort Wayne. Cora Greve, the Chicago society prima donna, is singing the song which has been adopted by President Wilson as the peace song for the United States and a souvenir of this song will be presented to everyone who attends the matinee at the Empress Wednesday.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

EMMA DUNN IN "MOTHER."

There are very few film-plays that can be considered as appealing with equal force to different people with varied tastes, but in "Mother," we find the exception to the rule.

"Mother" will bring back in all their beauty, all their vividness, those cherished memories that lay stilled in the hearts of all of us, it will awaken them into glowing life, thrusting aside the barrier of the years and giving us a look back into the days of our childhood. See this play today, it will make you feel, and remember, and awaken. Its appeal goes straight to the heart, because it tells a story that every man and woman knows, but which many have forgotten.

Emma Dunn in the title role gives a performance that for beautiful fidelity and tenderness of appeal, goes unprecedented. She is assisted by a cast which render support of inapproachable character, while the staging of this deeply moving play reflects brilliantly all of that care and detail that has always characterized the Shubert and Brady productions.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

The freshman football team clashed with the senior eleven at Swinney park after school on Monday afternoon. The seniors carried off the honors, yet the "freshies," who were considerably outweighed, put up a stiff fight. The score was, Seniors, 30; Freshmen, 0.

The committee in charge of the sophomore party which is to be given next Friday evening at the high school building, is making plans for the social function, at which all members of the class expect to have a hilarious time. Room No. 15, at one time the gymnasium, but now a recitation room, will be converted into a ball room for the evening, a piano will be moved in, and all sophomores who desire, may dance the tango, the "bear," the "lame duck" or hesitation under the censoring supervisions of the chaperons, who will be there in full force. During the evening light refreshments will be served, various games will be played and other amusements will be furnished. A charge of 25 cents will be levied upon all those who attend in order to defray the expenses of the party.

The meeting of the Mathematics club which was to have been held in room No. 20 of the high school on Friday evening, October 23, has been postponed until Wednesday evening, November 5.

TAFT EXTRACTS A LESSON FROM WAR

Says U. S. Should Adhere Strictly to Letter of Treaties.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The United States senate should draw from the European war a lesson regarding its own conduct, said ex-President William H. Taft in an address here today before the American Bar association. In discussing the charges of violation of treaties by European nations, Mr. Taft said that this country should put itself in such a position that it could fulfill to the letter the obligations imposed by its treaties, and he recommended legislation to that end.

In his address, delivered as president of the American Bar association, Mr. Taft also said that the progressive party was departing from "the preposterous nostrum" of the recall of judicial decisions because it apparently had become a burden to the party.

In speaking of the European war, Mr. Taft said that President Wilson should have the warmest approval and sincerest co-operation in his efforts to maintain the strict neutrality of this country.

"We are the principal nation," he continued, "of the Christian world not so related to the struggle that both sides may really regard us as disinterested friends. It is our highest duty, and the president makes plain his appreciation of this, not to sacrifice and destroy this great leverage for successful mediation, when the opportunity arises, by ill-advised and premature judgments upon the merits. We must hold our tongues to be useful to mankind."

The Country's Obligations.

"And now that we are discussing compliance with treaties and the effect of treaties of arbitration and of peace upon the chances of war, is it not a good time for us to clean our own house and to put ourselves in a position where we can fulfill to the letter every treaty we have entered into. We have made many treaties of friendship and peace—indeed, treaties with all the world—in which we have assured to aliens, subjects or citizens of the other party to the treaty, resident within our borders, due process of law in protection of life, liberty and property. But we now withhold, however, from the same authority that makes the treaty the power to fulfill its obligations. A statute of a dozen lines would put it into the power of the president to institute judicial proceedings, civil and criminal, in courts of the United States to punish a violation of the treaty rights of aliens and enable him to use the civil and military executive arm of the government to protect against their threatened invasion. In our past experience we realize that mob violence committed through race prejudice against aliens will never be punished by state authority, and there is nothing that a highstrung people—and it is peoples now who largely control the matter of war and peace—resents so much as the mistreatment of their fellow countrymen living under the flag of a foreign government that has stipulated and pledged its honor to give them protection."

Not Unconstitutional.

The speaker denied that the granting to the president of such powers as he outlined would be unconstitutional.

Mr. Taft said there were indications that there had been a distinct falling off in support of the proposals for recall of judges and of judicial decisions. These proposals, he said, were incorporated in the platform of the progressive party, whose leader "felt called upon to declare that they were the rock upon which it was founded."

"It would appear," Mr. Taft continued, 'that the party which fathered these proposals now finds that instead of being the rock on which it is founded it is, to change the metaphor, the rock on which it founders. Certainly it seems wise to its leaders to ignore this part of their original propaganda, an indication that it has ceased to be vote-getting and indeed has become a burden to any party that assumes to press it."

Turning to the anti-trust legislation of the Wilson administration, Mr. Taft analyzed the trade commission act and the Clayton act.

"In so far as the field of general interstate trade is within the practical range of supervision and regulation," he said, "the machinery adopted, it seems to me, is as effective as any could be." With one minor exception, he added, the field of illegal and criminal effort in respect to restraints of interstate commerce is not enlarged under the new acts, which he characterized as in many respects merely declaratory of existing law.

RAISES PROBLEM THAT IS SERIOUS

Changing Grade of West Main Street Might Block Road to Lindenwood.

The board of works and City Engineer Randall are concerned with the problem of keeping the way to Lindenwood cemetery open when the work of changing the grade and repaving West Main street at the Grand Rapids railroad subway is in progress. To close that thoroughfare would necessitate a long drive to the north and over Spring street bridge and then back to the cemetery entrance. The work will have to be done in sections and the plans for this remain to be worked out.

MAUMEE AVENUE COMPLETED.

East Entrance of Lincoln Highway to City is Now Paved.

By Tuesday evening the Moellering Construction company will have completed the paving of Maumee avenue from Sidney street to the city limits and this will open the eastern entrance of the Lincoln highway to Fort Wayne. The paving of the New Haven road, which is a continuation of Maumee avenue, is almost completed by the Brooks Construction company and that concrete thoroughfare will give traffic from the east a paved way from New Haven to the city's center. There was fear a few weeks ago that the completion of the Maumee avenue contract would be seriously delayed by the failure of the Metropolitan Paving Brick company to deliver brick in Fort Wayne.

The Moellering company will take its paving gang from Maumee avenue to Wayne Trace, which the board of works is determined to have completed this fall.

The work of pouring concrete for the Oneida avenue pavement was begun Tuesday afternoon. This will be the first pavement of the concrete type to be put down in Fort Wayne.

READY TO BEGIN ON BRIDGE.

Work on the reconstruction of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad bridge at the West Main street subway will be inaugurated at once by the Indiana Engineering and Construction company, which was awarded the contract a few days ago. The old bridge is to be replaced by one much stronger because of the heavier type of locomotives now in use on the Grand Rapids road. The street grade will be depressed eighteen inches under the bridge to allow for the heavy steel I-beams that are to carry the tracks. Heavy concrete abutments will support these. The construction company will place its concrete mixer on flat cars and pour concrete from above, carrying on operations for building the abutments behind the wooden piling that now supports the bridge without disturbing it. The Moellering company has the contract for relocating the grade of the street, paving it and constructing sidewalks. All the cost of the work is to be borne by the railroad.

NO FEAR OF SMALLPOX.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the board of health, on Tuesday stated that there was no reason at present to fear an outbreak of smallpox in Fort Wayne. There are no known cases in the city. The last cases reported developed last summer and were taken charge of by the health authorities July 18. Both were on the north side. June 28 a case was reported from Smith street. Prompt action and vigilant watching prevented a spread of the pestilence from those cases and the vigilance, Dr. Gilpin declares, will be employed at all times.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

To Mr. and Mrs. Eppa Meeks, 1365 Wabash avenue—a girl.

To Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kelker, 812 West Third street (at St. Joseph hospital)—a boy.

REPAIRING BIG SEWER.

The Wabash railroad has removed the piling which had been driven into the South Wayne sewer arch at the Taylor street track elevation and is now repairing the masonry. About fifteen feet of the upper part of the arch had fallen. The sewer has been badly crippled for months.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Henry A. Lantz, one-story frame and sheet iron warehouse to Fort Wayne Box company, 108-10-12, West Superior street, $1,600.

APPROVE ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

The board of works has approved assessment rolls for new cement sidewalks on the east side of Webster street, Packard to Darrow; both sides of Monroe street, Washington to Madison, and for paving Eliza street, Francis to Gay.

ST. MARY'S AVENUE PAVED.

After long waiting residents of St. Mary's avenue have realized the improvement of their street. The Grace Construction company has completed the paving of that thoroughfare from Burgess street to Archer avenue and has moved over to Putnam street, which will be completed next week.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE.

CITY MILK CASE BEFORE A JURY

Oscar Addler's Appeal from Police Court Occupies Whole Day.

Late Tuesday afternoon a circuit court jury retired to deliberate a verdict on the case of the state of Indiana against Oscar Addler, a dairyman, charged with selling milk containing visible dirt. It was brought up from the city court where, on March 11, 1914, Addler was found guilty and fined $10 and costs. A similar case is pending on appeal against Carl Stummel, another dairyman, who was arrested, tried and fined at the same time Addler was. The hearing in the circuit court occupied the entire day and much testimony was taken.

BRIDGE PLANS ALMOST READY.

The board of county commissioners and Engineer Asa W. Grosvenor were in consultation Tuesday concerning the Harrison street bridge over the St. Mary's river, for which Mr. Grosvenor is preparing plans. These plans are practically completed and show a stately concrete structure that will produce the largest and finest bridge of the many in Fort Wayne. The bridge is to be built next year.

MAY SHIP RAW SUGAR.

Germany Will Permit Export to Neutral Countries.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Germany will permit the shipment of raw sugar to neutral countries, American Consul Donegan at Magdeburg, Germany, has advised the state department. He states that from 150,000 to 200,000 metric tons of raw sugar is now available and approximately 900,000 tons will be available later. Mr. Donegan advises the use of American vessels for cargoes of raw sugar of German origin. The German beet crop, he reports, is expected to produce a minimum of 2,500,000 tons of raw sugar.

Although British railroads rank fourth among the nations in regard to mileage, they carry more passengers every year than are carried in any other country.

WILLARD UNDER HOT CROSSFIRE

B. & O. President Declares Deals Did Not Cause Rate Raise Need.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Today's hearing before the interstate commerce commission on the application of the eastern railroads for increased freight rates on their contention that financial exigencies brought on by the European war make them needful was devoted largely to a cross-examination of President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, on the relations of that system to the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton.

Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the commission, laid stress on his questions on the B. & O. investment of more than $20,000,000 in the Ohio line and its assumption of obligations of a like amount. The witness said the investment represented only an interest charge of $1,000,000 annually and insisted that would not have affected the present situation of the line.

"If you did not have the C., H. & D. you would have the money you invested, would you not?" suggested Commissioner Meyer.

"Certainly," answered Mr. Willard. He added that he still maintained the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton deal had no bearing on the present need of the railroads for added revenues. He declared the present condition of all railroads was such that they were compelled to allow their rolling stock and roadways to drop below standard.

Taking up statements filed by the carriers to support their plea, Clifford Thorne, appearing for several state railroad commissions and shippers associations, asked Mr. Willard if it were not true that the years picked by the railroads for comparison to show failure of new investments to earn anything were the only years that would show that result. The statement compared figures for 1910 and 1913. Mr. Thorne read figures for 1913 and several other years both before and after 1910 which showed earnings on new capital. Mr. Willard did not challenge the figures read and his cross-examination closed.

WILL WAIT CALL OF STATE BOARD

Local Retail Merchants' Association Probably Will Take Part.

President Charles A. Niebergall, of the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association, stated Tuesday that he had received no notice from the state association of merchants calling attention to the campaign in the "trade-at-home" campaign launched at Indianapolis and that when the matter comes to him through official sources he will submit it at the first meeting.

There is little doubt in his mind that the members of the local association will enter heartily into any movement that has for its aim the betterment of conditions in Indiana and he also thinks that the plan will be submitted to him in a short time.

Fort Wayne merchants have been specially active in all lines that lead to improved trade conditions and the idea of keeping Indiana money in Indiana will probably appeal to them and if the organization endorses the plan of the state association it is highly probable that no city in the state will show more enterprise than Fort Wayne.

The Fort Wayne association will hold its next business meeting on the evening of November 2 and by that time the president will have been fully advised and will be able to submit the question to his associates.

A Country Party.

A company of friends went to the home of Diedrich Wiese, northeast of New Haven last Friday evening, nothing daunted by the fact that it rained hard. The party was a surprise, too, and the inclement weather helped the affair along as of course Mr. and Mrs. Weise were not looking for company. Everyone present enjoyed a merry time and refreshments were a feature of pleasure. Those who took part were Katherine Hankel, Sarah Ostheimer, Martha Wesling, Frieda Wiese, Otto Wiese, Albert Wesling, Edwin Hormann, Christian Zink, Christian Wiese, Carl Zink, Dedrich Wiese, Arthur Zink, Martin Zink, Erwin Wiese.

Pigs Pay Washington Farmer's See American Tour.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 20.—Because J. K. Smawley's three pigs multiplied themselves by five during the last year he is $525 richer than he was last October.

Smawley bought three thoroughbred Bekshires at a stock show a year ago; to the same show he brought 15 pigs this fall, the offspring of the original trio. He sold the yearlings for $35 each and kept the mother pigs.

With his easily earned "pile" Smawley will make a tour of the United States and he may incidentally look into the pig-farming business.

Reliable and Crisp News Always

CRACK LIGHTWEIGHT BOXERS WERE BOTH WEAKLINGS AT SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE

(By Left Hook).

Freddie Welsh, champion lightweight of the world, and Charlie White, the best of the class Chicago ever produced, will battle in Milwaukee, Nov. 9.

And that announcement, which appeared a few days ago, has a moral behind it.

How many boxing fans know that both Freddie Welsh and Charlie White were given up by doctors at the age of 16 years? And that they were pronounced physical weaklings with but a few years to live?

Today these two frail, flat-chested boys stand at the top of the boxing profession —physical marvels—powerful human motors of strength and endurance.

Of course, training did it. But not training alone. Determination and constant application brought these two to the athletic perfection and boxing skill sufficient to make fight fans part with $12,000 or $15,000 to see them perform in the same ring.

Welsh attributes his physique to the fact that he is a vegetarian. He has not tasted meat since the time, as a slender boy, he was told he had not much chance to spend many years among us.

Now, at 28, he is perhaps the speediest boxer in the ring and as near perfect physically as a man can be.

Warned by physicians, White's parents sent him to Bill O'Connell, the old-timer who runs a gym in Chicago. While taking his regular exercises Charlie developed so much speed with the gloves that O'Connell's attention was attracted. Two years later the frail kid developed into a pretty tough young fellow, and was fighting the best of the feathers.

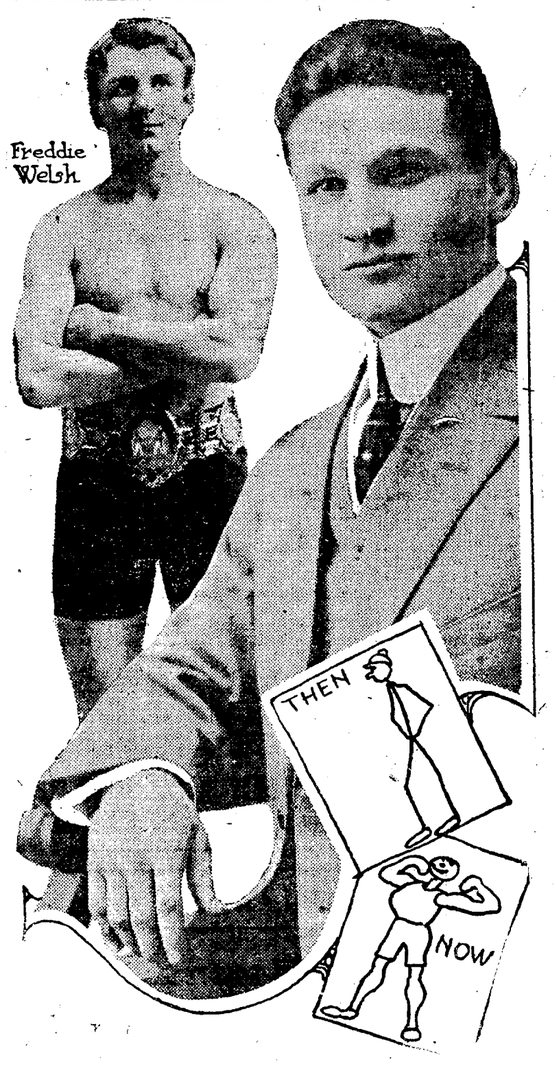
Charlie is now 23 years of age. Two years ago his greatest ambition was to get a match with Johnny Kilbane. But the featherweight class couldn't hold him and now, with a few added pounds he is to meet the best of the lightweights. Even today he rarely scales over 131 in his ring togs.

His record is without a blemish with the exception of a poor fight he made against Danny Webster on the coast when a kid, and that Fourth of July battle two years ago in New Orleans when the referee stopped the fight in the eighteenth round and gave Jack Britton the decision. White was outweighted and outreached but not outfought. His recent knockout of Joe Azevedo redeemed him on the coast.

Many people believe—and Welsh believes—White is the toughest lightweight in America at the present time. Before Willie Ritchie went abroad to lose his title to Welsh the Chicago boy won a wide shade over him in Milwaukee and nearly had him out in the first round. White's left hook sent many a good boy to the canvas and Welsh will be no exception if he gets it over. Freddie can't lose his crown in this ten-round no-decision affair unless knocked out.

But Freddie's lighter blows come across with a great deal more rapidity than White can boast and they may bewilder Charlie enough to make his left useless, especially in a ten-round encounter.

It is a curious fact that both were born Britishers, White originating in Liverpool. His name is Charles Anchove, and three brothers are fighters—Jack White, Battling White and Billy Wagner—although none of them ever showed the class of Charlie.



TWO PLAYERS ON TWO TITLE TEAMS

Evers and Pat Dougherty Each Played on Two World Champ Clubs.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 20.—Johnny Evers, captain and second baseman of the Boston Braves, and Pat Dougherty, the old Boston and Chicago outfielder, are the only baseball players who have played with two different world's championship teams. Dougherty played with the Boston Americans in 1903 when they won the world's championship and he was with the Chicago Americans when that team won the championship three years later. Evers played with the Cubs when they won the title in 1907 and 1908 and equaled Dougherty's feat by playing with the Boston Braves in this year's series.

Josh Devore, the Boston substitute outfielder, took part in world's series with two different teams, but until the Braves won this year he was never a world's champion, and this year he got into the series only in the capacity of a pinch hitter.

Evers' record is the more remarkable because there was a space of six years between his two championship connections. In seven years almost any baseball player is expected to slow down, and yet seven years after playing with his first world's championship team the irrepressible Johnny is found as the mainstay of an entirely different team.

Evers' record is also unusual in that he is still able to play great baseball despite his unfortunate experience as a manager. Few players have been able to maintain their standard of playing after once attempting the managerial end of the game. Jake Stahl, who led the championship Red Sox team in 1912, was one of the few players whose disastrous experience as a manager did not have a bad effect on his playing. And at that Stahl made his "come back" more as a manager than as a player. He was still a good player, however, when the Red Sox played the Giants two years ago.

The names of the great players who have started to go back after failing as managers are many. One of the best examples is that of Hal Chase, the former Yankee first baseman, who seems never to have been the same brilliant player since his brief attempt to guide the Yankees.

Evers is one of the kind of players upon whom failure seems to make no impression. If he fails once, he is ready to try again and keep on trying. It was just this spirit which he seems to have imparted to the whole Boston team, which made them an unbeatable combination, although far the inferior in mere mechanical ability of many of the teams they so easily overcome.

SUSPEND MINORS FOR THE SEASON

That is One Plan Suggested to Kill Player's Organization in 1915.

New York, Oct. 20.—The word has been passed by the powers of organized baseball that the Baseball Players' fraternity must be crushed and crushed at once. Twice the solons have met the union more than half way and in so doing simply stored up additional trouble for the promoters of the sport. President David L. Fultz and his board of strategy at a meeting in this city drafted a set of resolutions for additional contract reforms which will be presented to the national commission and the national association, the governing heads of major and minor leagues respectively.

Fultz and his associates have given no inkling of the character of their most recent assumed grievances. But that is neither here no rthere. The national association and the national commission are both prepared to turn down flat Fultz and his organization.

To curb the growing discontent resulting from the expanding powers of the Baseball Players' fraternity, it has been proposed to suspend operations next season in every protected league except the American and the National. In other words if a suggestion which was fostered in the council room of the national commission meets with the popular approval of the national association board there will be no such thing as minor league baseball in 1915.

Such drastic action has passed much further than the stage of loose talk. The presidents of the class AA and class A leagues have already sounded their club owners on the matter and almost without exception owners of big minor league clubs have assured absolute loyalty to any extreme measure that may be necessary for the ultimate conservation of the game. There is little doubt that leagues of smaller rating will offer serious objection.

The campaign of 1914 proved unusually disastrous financially for minor leagues, great and small. The Federal league, which had a ruinous year itself, created a ruinous year for both the International league and the American association. Business conditions are so dull generally that the class AA circuits would welcome the experiment of a year's layoff. Each of these clubs averaged a loss of $25,000 the past season. The presence of the Federal league forced up salaries far beyond the breaking point, besides cutting in upon patronage to a degree.

The outlaws have completely disarranged the territorial worth of the class AA leagues. By interference with property rights of the major circuits, especially in the cases of the Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Pittsburg Nationals, they laid waste financial prospects of the established circuits. And their presence shut off from the lesser leagues one of the chief avenues of financial gain, that of profitable disposition of talent to leagues of higher classification.

The suspensions of operations for one season by the minor leagues would prove a severe hardship to the great rank and file of professional players who, unfortunately, under existing conditions, may be considered generally as innocent victims, for as yet the smallest minor circuits have nothing in common with the fraternity cause.

Here's Brickley's Runner-Up on Harvard Eleven

Huntington Hardwick will have to do the kicking for the Crimson until Charley Brickley gets back. Experts admit Hard wick would be a great star on any team if no Brickley existed to outshine him. His work at half last year was brilliant, and he is one of the Harvard mainstays again this season.

They hang on all winter if not checked, and pave the way for serious throat and lung diseases. Get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and take it freely. Stops coughs and colds, heals raw inflamed throat, loosens the phlegm and is mildly laxative. Chas. T. Miller, Ed. Enquirer, Cannelton, Ind., had bronchial trouble, got very hoarse, coughed constantly from a tickling throat. He used only Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Was entirely relieved. RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

Knights of Columbus Pass Resolution on Death of John Bushman.

At the weekly meeting Monday night the Knights of Columbus passed a resolution of sympathetic sorrow upon the death of John Bushman, who was for many years a member of that order. The resolution which bears the signatures of John Eggeman, Robert Kelley and Adam Rheinhart is as follows:

"Whereas, death has again invaded our midst and relentlessly taken from us and his sorrowing family our beloved John Bushman, and

"Whereas, we desire to give expression to the sorrow with which this sad event has filled our hearts, also to bear witness to the love for the departed, and our high esteem for his many virtues; be it

"Resolved, that while our hearts are made to bleed, and our heads are bowed in sorrow by the death of Brother John Bushman we submit to the will of God, who doeth all things well;

"Resolved, that in his death we are profoundly impressed with the fact that 'in life we are in the midst of death,' and that his soul has gone to its reward, and be it further

"Resolved, that we, the officers and members of Fort Wayne council, No. 451, Knights of Columbus, extend our heartfelt sympathy to his beloved wife and children, to whom he was so devoted, and in whose home circle a lamentable vacancy has been created, and be it again further

"Resolved, that a suitably engrossed resolution be prepared and forwarded to the afflicted family, and that our charter be draped for a period of thirty days as a mark of respect to his memory.

"May his soul rest in peace."

INVITED THE CAPTAIN HERE.

Louis Rippe, who conducts a tailor shop on Broadway, has sent an invitation to New York to Captain Reiners, of the German barge Matador, asking him to come to Fort Wayne to spend a vacation forced upon him by the European war.

Captain Reiner is in charge of a sailing vessel and started from New Orleans to Bremen just before the war. He received news of the outbreak while at sea and made for New York with his cargo of $360,000 worth of tobacco, landing it safely. He is Mr. Rippe's first cousin and attention was called to the occurrence by John Rippe, a brother, who has a machine shop in Bremen.

U. S. VETERINARIAN FINDS CHOLERA AT POST-MORTEM HERE

Dr. Paul A. Mollan, United States veterinarian co-operating with Purdue university, yesterday found hog cholera when he held a post-mortem at the farm of Paul Zink, residing five miles east of New Haven. The examination was witnessed by fifty farmers in the neighborhood.

Dr. Mollan was assisted by County Agent Henry. When the men arrived at the farm they found several sick hogs penned for the "post." One of the hogs was killed and dissected. The lungs, kidneys, bladder and intestines were found spotted as in the case of cholera. The official spent some time in demonstrating the effects of cholera on the hog and told how the disease may be found in a pen of hogs. Following the examination Dr. Mollan had each farmer present disinfect his shoes with a wash prepared. This was done to prevent carrying disease germs to farms where there is no cholera.

Arrangements are now being made to have Dr. Mollan here within the next two weeks to give a number of illustrated lectures throughout the county on disease prevention. The dates for these have not yet been set.—Fort Wayne Journal-azette, October 18, 1914.

IS PROSPERITY HERE? WELL, YES

Is prosperity here? Well.

The grand total of exports for the year to date exceeds $670,000,000, which is more than $20,000,000 ahead of the corresponding period in 1912, and only a little behind the record of last year.

That the southern cotton planter's period of gloom is passing is evidenced by the fact that, while in September cotton exports were only 11 per cent. of the 1913 total for September, last week they reached 45 per cent. of the total for the corresponding week of a year ago.

Cotton exports now exceed the previous weekly maximum by over 30 per cent. The total foreign shipments for the last reported week exceeds the preceding by over $2,000,000. The rains in the west have made certain a bumper winter wheat crop, rivaling the crop which has just been harvested with such profit to the farmer. Exceptional orders from abroad, certain to stimulate new trade, continue to pour into American factories.

From Pittsburg, for example, comes news that the French government has ordered 5,000 tons of steel for bayonets from the Crucible Steel company.

The south will soon be sharing equally in prosperity of the manufacturing north, and of the agricultural west, where prosperous farmers will soon have 40,000,000 acres sown with winter wheat alone, according to the Price Current Grain Reporter.

New York, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Almira Prindle, known all over the United States as "Mother Prindle" on account of her life-long work for the betterment of homeless women, died yesterday at her home in Brooklyn in her 78th year. Twenty-five years ago she assisted in the foundation of the Florence Crittenton mission for girls in this city and since then assisted in the founding of the missions in Boston and Watertown, Mass., Philadelphia, Little Rock, Ark., and personally founded the home in Newark, Ohio. About six years ago she retired from active work.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or women who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

RESCUED FROM QUICKSAND.

Massachusetts Man Taken Out After 48 Hours Imprisonment.

Ware, Mass., Oct. 20.—After forty-eight hours imprisonment in quicksand, twenty-five feet below the surface of the earth, Maurice Allen was rescued late yesterday by a gang of fifty firemen, policemen and citizens who had dug a ditch fifty feet long and thirty feet deep to reach him.

Allen was conscious when rescued, but very weak. He said he had been unable to help himself as his feet were held firmly by a piece of planking. A bit and saw which were lowered to him yesterday morning enabled him to work one of his feet free, but another cavein buried the tools and left him as helpless as before.

Julian Schone, son of Henry Schone, sustained a broken arm at Chicago Sunday while he was attempting to crank an auto hearse.

CRUSHED BETWEEN A CAR AND POST

Oliver Cromwell Vernon, a Pennsylvania switchman, was instantly killed at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he was caught between a moving car and one of the supports of a coal bin at the Olds coal yards.

According to the engine and switching crew, Mr. Vernon was in the act of coupling cars and his fate was not known until the mangled body was found by Switchman F. F. Sutton, lying where it had fallen when released by the car, after the engine and string of cars had pulled out of the coal yards. The circumstances indicate that Mr. Vernon was caught between the side of a long car and the post when the space was shortened as the car was passing a curved portion of the track, throwing the center of the body nearer the coal bin than were the ends of the car. The body was horribly crushed by being rolled in the narrow space. Many of the ribs and the spinal column were broken and the skull was crushed, there being a deep hole on the left temple and another on the right side of the head and face.

Coroner Kruse and the police were called and after investigating the conditions at the scene of the accident, had the remains turned over to Getz & Cahill, who took them to their undertaking parlors, where they are being held for instructions from relatives.

So far as known Mr. Vernon had no immediate relatives except a sister, Mrs. Peter Watson, who resides in Coldwater, Mich. She was notified of the accident and later a telegram from her husband stated that he would arrive in Fort Wayne this evening to take charge of the body. Until Mr. Watson arrives, nothing can be done with the funeral arrangements.

Oliver Cromwell Vernon was born in Huntington March 18, 1886, and was past 28 years old. His parents died when he was a child and he was taken and educated by the Lingle school, an orphanage, at Huntington. When he was about 12 years old, C. E. Lewis took him from the orphanage and gave him a home until he was 21 years old. When he came to this city and soon afterwards, on December 16, 1908, he took employment as a yard brakeman with the Pennsylvania. April 29, 1910, he was promoted to yard conductor and was reduced to switchman a few months ago when it became necessary to reduce the yard force on account of a falling off in business.

A letter from his sister, which arrived here this morning and was opened by the coroner, makes inquiry concerning "Uncle Jim" and if he still lived at Andrews. In his application for employment with the Pennsylvania Mr. Vernon named J. B. Vernon, of Huntington county, as his nearest to kin, and it is probable that it is this man that Mrs. Watson inquires about.

The deceased was unmarried and during the entire time of his residence in Fort Wayne he made his home with Mrs. Celeste Stewart, of 434 Baker street. He was a member of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Ben-Hur lodge, No. 15; Fort Wayne lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, and Our Home lodge, No. 881, I. O. O. F. He had not, however, taken all the degrees in the Odd Fellows order, receiving the second last Friday and making application for the remaining degrees to be received during October.

Other members of the crew in which Mr. Vernon was working Monday were Conductor C. H. Myers, Engineer G. L. Kruse, Fireman G. L. Sweaney and Brakeman F. F. Sutton.

BOOMING THE EXCURSION.

Frank P. Parnin, district passenger agent of the Nickel Plate, is one of the busiest men in this part of the country. In addition to his regular business, he is circulating much of the time among the people living in the towns along the railway talking Cleveland excursion to them. And Mr. Parnin says he finds them willing to listen. The excursion next Saturday, while it may not eclipse some of its predecessors in a numerical way, will have them all beat in the way of amusement features at Cleveland for the excursionists. To the sport-loving man an interesting feature will be a foot ball game between the Chase and the Wooster university boys Saturday afternoon. The special train will leave Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and arrive in Cleveland at 1 o'clock.

WABASH'S NEW TIME CARD.

Agent F. C. Eggers, of the Wabash, this morning received an outline of a time card which will become effective on that road next Sunday. Announcing that local trains 50, 53, 54 and 55, which run between this city and Montpelier, will be dropped from service, the statement is made that through trains 28, 1, 3 and 4 will handle the local business between the points named and that the time of each will be slightly changed. No. 28 will be due at Fort Wayne at 10 o'clock, No. 1 at 1 o'clock, No. 4 about 5:30 and No. 3 at 9:53, the same as at present. No. 4 will be consolidated at Montpelier with Chicago train No. 6 and the two will run as one train into Detroit.

NO BOWLING LEAGUE THIS YEAR.

Owing to the fact that many of the employes of the Electric works are already members of city bowling teams, the efforts to organize a league at that institution was fruitless and the matter will be dropped for the time being, at least. However, individual clubs from some of the departments will be organized and games will be played at different times during the season. A team of office employes, under the captainey of L. Garman, is ready and anxious to meet any other team which may be organized among employes of the Electric works.

DANCE AND EUCHRE PARTY.

The Meat Cutters have decided to add card playing to the entertainment they will give at Tanner's hall Wednesday evening, Nov. 18. The committee in whose hands the affair has been placed, is composed of George Feuchter, chairman; Chris Kessen, Frank A. Miller, Frank Gessinger and Henry Koers.

Blanchard, who had a run on train 37 during the absence of Engineer Walsh, has returned to the extra passenger list.

The wound received treatment at the shop office, when Mr. Toensing resumed work as if nothing unusual had occurred.

SALMON GOING EAST.

Many shipments of salmon are being made to the eastern markets at present, the fish going in car load lots in refrigerator cars. No. 2, on the Nickel Plate, had a car load yesterday, and No. 4 carried another car load, the former to Boston and the latter to New York.

SLOT MACHINE MAN IS UNDER ARREST

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Lloyd W. Yount, who gives his residence as Muncie, Ind., was arrested in this city last evening on a warrant issued by Prosecutor Will W. Reller, charging an attempt to bribe Mayor W. W. Robbins, of Richmond. Yount is an agent for a slot machine company. Believing Prosecutor Reller was the mayor's secretary, and that the bribe he offered was acceptable, it is charged he asserted to Reller, according to the latter, that he had recently completed "making arrangements" with Mayor Rollin Bunch, of Muncie, for the operation of slot machines in that city.

After Mayor Robbins and Prosecutor Reller had led Yount to believe that they had accepted his offer to pay the mayor $25 a week for the first three weeks the machines were in use in Richmond, and $60 a week thereafter as long as the machines were in operation here, Yount paid Reller $10 as a guarantee of good faith, according to the prosecutor.

BUNCH DENIES STATEMENT.

Asserts He Never Had Dealings With Slot Machine Agent.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mayor Rollin Bunch, when informed of the statements made by Lloyd W. Yount when he was arrested at Richmond, denied that he knew anything about any slot machine "arrangements." He asserted he never had dealings with Yount.

MADE-IN-AMERICA PLAN WINS FAVOR

National Movement Winning Support from Every Section.

New York, Oct. 20.—An enthusiasm greater than was hoped for even by the most sanguine of the incorporators has greeted the natin-wide "Made in America" movement recently launched by the "Made in America" Products association. From all parts of the country have come letters and telegrams containing words of commendation and inquiries regarding membership. More than 100 firms have indicated their interest in the movement and letters have been received from manufacturers and business men in all lines, publishers, manufacturers' associations and labor organizations, club women and ministers. One minister proposes to preach a sermon on the subject and several women's clubs have indorsed the movement and will enlist members throughout the country under the "Made in America" flag.

At the headquarters of the organization, 115 Broadway, New York, it was stated yesterday that while the activities of the association have so far been confined to New York city and its environs, letters have been received from as far west as California. The directors hope to start with the territory outside New York city this week.

Harry Tipper, of the Texas company, president of the Advertising Men's league and a member of the executive committee of the "Made in America" Products association, Inc., issued a statement yesterday regarding the work being done and planned by the association. He said:

"During the past few months the newspapers and magazines have devoted much space to the slogan, 'Made in America,' and when our association was incorporated, that title naturally suggested itself. Since then we have received quite a few letters suggesting that 'Made in U. S. A.' would be more appropriate. The matter will be given careful consideration by the members of the association, but the important point that we wish to impress upon the consumer, both at home and abroad, is that no matter under what slogan they are offered, American-made goods are equal, if not superior, to those of European manufacture. We are appealing to Americans to buy American-made goods, not for patriotic onr sentimental reasons, but because we know they will get as good if not better values than if they bought foreign-made products. We have in this country the best workmen and specialists in the world. Many of them received their early training in European workshops, and know their secrets, as well as those of the Americans. Therefore, they are able to produce better goods.

"The exalted position that many Americans give to European products is not justified by facts. Why, I know of several instances wherein American manufacturers place a foreign stamp on their goods and thereby find a more ready sale for them. One of the primary objects of our organization is to disabuse the public mind of the fact that a foreign stamp makes for a better product.

"When the war in Europe started a great hue and cry went up that numerous American industries would be forced to close down because they could not procure certain materials made in Europe. I know of one case of a manufacturer of enameled signs who was ready to quit because he had always secured a certain pigment from Europe. He went to his laboratory in despair only to learn that his chief chemist had been experimenting and had produced a pigment better than that which they had been using. The factory is running at full capacity today. We Americans are, in many respects, too diffident. We have depended so long upon Europe for certain things and it is so easy to get them there that we have continued to do so, instead of manufacturing them at home.

"One point that I would like to emphasize particularly is that this 'Made in America' movement is not a hysterical, sensational idea. It is a great educational movement that will take much time and hard work. The incorporators have volunteered to shoulder the leadership, but they will need the help of every one, for every one will be benefited. We want suggestions of all kinds, for we shall need them. It took Europe years to gain its prestige. It will take us a long time to establish ours. We have the advantage of being the one country in the world in the position to do it just now. The movement is not directed against any nation, but in the interest of the United States of America. The opportunity that has presented it to us is not of our making, yet we would be foolish to ignore it."

That the activities of the association have been cabled abroad is indicated by a letter received from a firm in Ivanovo, Voznesensk, Russia, in which the writer says:

"Every kind of goods which we had received from Germany are now stopped because of the war. Perhaps you can aid me by sending me the addresses of American firms making aniline dyes and also electric lamps of any kind. I am willing to pay in advance."

Carl Fox, 2125 Oakley street, was removed to his home Monday afternoon from the St. Joseph hospital, where he has been a patient for several weeks, as a result of some injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident. In the collision Mr. Fox was blinded by dust and his foot was badly crushed.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR BIG MEETING

Judge John W. Eggeman, of the Allen circuit court, will preside on Friday evening at the Majestic theater on which occasion Governor Samuel M. Ralston will be the principal speaker.

Plans for the gathering were discussed at a meeting between District Chairman Edward G. Hoffman, County Chairman W. A. Johnson and a number of the candidates at democratic headquarters Tuesday afternoon and plans for the gathering were completed.

In addition to Governor Ralston, Hon. Thomas Taggart, who is making his debut as a campaign orator and who has never before been on a speaking tour in all the years that he had been a leading spirit in Indiana politics will be heard as will W. H. O'Brien, auditor of state.

Democrats of Allen county have decided to make this the really big meeting of the campaign and there is little doubt that the Majestic theater will be packed to hear the able discussions of politics that will be heard on the occasion.

A parade for which a great number of automobile owners have offered the use of their machines, the Jefferson drum corps and a big turnout of democrats will be the main features of the celebration. Governor Ralston has not made a great number of speeches during the present campaign and the local democratic organization considers itself extremely lucky that he was secured for Fort Wayne.

Arranging for Cline Meeting.

At democratic headquarters Tuesday plans were started for the first of the Cline meetings which is scheduled for the assembly room of the courthouse on the evening of Monday, Oct. 26. Mr. Cline has just notified Maurice Niezer, of the speakers' bureau, that he will be here at that time.

He will speak in Steuben county and will close the campaign with an address at Angola on the evening of Oct. 31 and has placed his other time at the disposal of the Allen county chairman.

The question of who will preside at the meeting in Fort Wayne and who the other speakers of the evening will be are matters that are to be taken up at once and disposed of so that arrangements can be perfected and the entire program given out.

Democratic leaders were pleased to hear of the coming of Mr. Cline, and will probably make some other dates for him in Fort Wayne and at points in Allen county.

A meeting has been arranged for Iroquois hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, and the speakers will be Phillip Zoercher, candidate for reporter of the Indiana supreme court; C. M. Niezer and A. M. Groves.

Mossman Will Preside.

Austin W. Stults, who is preparing the program for the meeting at the Majestic theater Thursday evening when Senator William E. Borah will deliver an address, announced on Tuesday that B. Paul Mossman would be the chairman at the gathering.

Arrangements are under way for a parade to precede the address and committees will be appointed to meet the speaker and escort him to the hotel and the trains.

Mr. Stults also announces that he is arranging for the postal employes' association to meet Mr. Borah and extend him the thanks of the organization for his efforts in securing the passage of legislation for their benefit. This meeting will take place at the Anthony hotel.

Drum Corps to Attend.

Thursday evening at the Brown Trucking company's barn, Ninth ward; Welck's livery barn, Hanna street; Fourth ward, on Fairfield avenue; Ralston meeting, Friday evening; Monroeville Saturday night, and the Marshall meeting one week from Saturday night. The drum corps, democratic speakers and others who will attend the Monroeville meeting will leave by interurban at 6 o'clock, leaving Monroeville at 9:15 for the return trip.

Word has been received in this city of the death of O. E. White, a former resident of Fort Wayne, who died at the family home at Lima, Ohio, Sunday evening at the age of sixty years. Mr. White was formerly a railroad conductor and was well known here.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Although wheat developed some weakness today in the early dealings, the market afterward showed a decided rally. After opening ½c off to ½c up, the market suffered a material decline all around and then recovered, with May scoring a fresh gain, but December not keeping pace.
The close was weak, 1¾c to 1⅞c net lower.
Favorable weather eased up corn. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ⅜c rise, was followed by a moderate general sag.
The close was weak at ⅝c to ¾c under last night.
Profit taking by longs had a depressing effect on oats. Price changes, however, were narrow.
Lower quotations for hogs carried down provisions. Difficulty in making shipments to Holland was also an adverse influence especially on lard.

STEEL CASE IN ARGUMENT

phia; C. A. Severance, New York, and David A. Reed, Pittsburg. George Welwood Murray, New York, will argue in behalf of John D. Rockefeller and his son who, along with Andrew Carnegie, George W. Perkins, E. H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab, Henry C. Frick and others are individual defendants.
F. R. Kellogg, of New York, will speak briefly for the James J. Hill interests.
The Hill interests are involved in the case through the lease by the Steel corporation of ore beds in the northwest. Since the institution of the suit this lease has been cancelled and Mr. Kellogg said he did not see the necessity of his appearance except to touch on certain law points in connection with the lease.
The suit was filed in the United States court for the district of New Jersey on Oct. 26, 1911, and was transferred to Philadelphia for argument before judges of the Third judicial circuit. The government asks that the greatest corporation in the world, in point of capitalization be broken up into the numerous companies that had been merged illegally, the government alleged, into the gigantic concern.

Defendant Files Brief.

The brief filed by the United States steel corporation reviewing the law which the government applies to the case and also reviewing the evidence, declares that what competition existed among the companies acquired by the big corporation was greatly limited. It is declared that the steel corporation's proportion of the country's total production of finished products in 1901, when the corporation was formed was only 50.1 per cent; that it has since been reduced to 45.7 per cent of the country's production for all the markets of the world and to 40.9 per cent of the total production for the domestic market.
The steel corporation's supply of ore in the Lake Superior district constituted only 43 per cent of the total amount of ore in the ranges of that district known in 1901, the brief states; that the corporation's present supply there constitutes only 36 per cent, and that of the total ores available for American iron and steel manufacturers the ores of the Lake Superior district constitute a small fraction.

But Natural Development.

In denying that the steel corporation suppressed competition, the brief states that the organizaion of the company was but a natural and normal development from existing trade and manufacturing conditions.
The brief calls attention to the corporation's successful efforts in building up a large foreign trade for American iron and steel products and states that the records do not show a single instance of freight rebates having been asked or given by the steel corporation or its subsidiaries since the organization of the big concern. With respect to its employes, the brief says the corporation has reduced wages only once during the whole period of its existence and that this was occasioned by a severe business depression in 1904 and since its formation the wages of the corporation's employes have been increased on the average of 28.5 per cent.

The Price of Its Products.

The price of its products, the brief continues, is shown to have decreased on the average about $8 a ton since it was formed. It was also shown that the price of steel products as compared with other commodities, the brief adds, has diminished 16.5 per cent. since the corporation was formed and since 1903 has been less in the United States than in either England or Germany. The brief denies the allegations that the steel corporation took advantage of the 1907 panic to acquire control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. The brief declares that Tennessee was not a substantial competitor of the steel corporation because it had never been a success; that the steel corporation had declined repeated offers of the Tennessee property and reiterates the former statements of the corporation that the stock was taken over only when it became apparent that nothing else would save Moore & Cehley, the New York firm, from failure and prevent the spread of the panic. Evidence shows, the brief sums up, "that no artificial barriers exist in the steel trade; that for nearly ten years competitive conditions had been ideal, and that under these conditions new competitors have grown up and expanded, products have improved, prices have declined and trade has flourished as never before."

What Government Asks.

The court is asked by the government to divide under independent ownership the following companies controlled by the Steel corporation: The Carnegie Steel company of New Jersey, National Steel company, American Steel Hoop company, American Sheet and Tinplate company, American Tinplate company, American Sheet Steel company, Federal Steel company, American Steel and Wire company, National Tube company, Shelby Steel Tube company and the American Bridge company.
The court is also asked to make independent the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, the Duluth, Missabe and Northern Railroad Co., the Tennessee Coal and Iron Railway Co., Union Steel Co. and the Clairton Steel Co., and that the ore and coal properties of the Union Steel corporation other than those of the Tennessee company be divided among the Clairton, Union and new concerns to be crated in proportion to their capacity for the production of steel.
The court is further asked to decree that "Andrew Carnegie was a party to the unlawful combination of properties through the United States Steel corporation and took the bonds of the corporation with all the infirmities attaching to such participation."
Finally the court is asked to appoint a receiver to take over all of the properties owned or controlled by the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries for the purpose of making effective the decree of the court; that the receiver recover from the syndicate subscribers and promoters and others who were parties to the alleged unlawful combination the difference between the par value of the stock received by them and the cash value of the properties or the services given therefor, so that restitution so far as possible may be made to the other stockholders. The testimony taken in the case is contained in fifty-five printed volumes, each an inch thick. The government's brief, a formidable paper of more than 900 printed pages, which has been filed, reviews the evidence in the case and argues the law points involved. Much of the space of the brief is given up to the Steel corporation's acquisition of the majority of the stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. The government alleges that E. H. Gary and Henry Frick, directors in the big corporations who went to President Roosevelt to see whether the government would object to the corporation taking over the Tennessee company, misrepresented to the president the amount of stock held by Moore and Schley, the New York firm, which the corporation sought to purchase during the panic of 1907. The government's brief declares that the real object of the Steel corporation in purchasing the Tennessee stock was not to help Moore & Schley out of financial difficulties, but to obtain absolute control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company property.

They declare that Villa's soldiers, who are in Aguas Calientes as escorts to the chiefs of Villa's army, rob them and insult them in the streets. They ask that Aguas Calientes and surrounding territory be declared neutral during the convention or that the convention be removed to Mexico City.

Orders Train Stopped.

Antonio Il Billareal, president of the convention, today ordered that a train bearing E. G. Llorente, Carlos Dominguez, Manual Bonilla and Andreas Cuzman to the border be stopped. These men were released from prison in Mexico City last night by order of the Aguas Calientes convention and were to be permitted to go to Villa territory. They were arrested on charges of attempting to incite rebellion against Carranza. It is expected they are to be held as hostage pending further action by Villa.

"The London report in New York that the success of the German war loan was made possible only by the government's seizing deposits in private banks is absurd. No private deposits have been seized. The subscriptions to this loan were absolutely uninfluenced by the government.
"The American committee of Munich has issued a statement setting forth its opinion that England is responsible for the war, that she is today the sole obstacle to peace; voicing its indignation at the falsification of facts in England and protesting against the participation of the Japanese in the war.

SMOOTH CIGAR THIEF LANDED

Charles Williams, alias Harris, alias Davis, a cigar thief of clever attainments and a criminal record, was arraigned in the city court Tuesday morning on a charge of petit larceny and continued until October 26 under $300 bond which he could not furnish. Williams on Monday about noon stole nine boxes of a well-known brand of ten-cent cigars from the salesrooms of the Wayne Tobacco company, on East Washington boulevard, and two boxes of an equally well-known brand of ten-cent cigars from the tobacco department of A. H. Perfect & Company on Columbia street. He represented himself as a cigar salesman, talked the business glibly and with knowledge and was given privileges in stockrooms not usually accorded a stranger. How he got out with his bundles and escaped detection is more or less of mystery, but he did it. He went to the Ely cigar store on Calhoun street and offered cigars for sale at a figure that caused surprise. This caused an inquiry to be made at the house jobbing that brand in the city. Investigation disclosed the robbery. Report was made to the police and Chief Lenz started an investigation and the robbery at Perfect's was first made known in that way. It was learned that Williams had made an appointment to deliver some cigars at the Frank cigar store, corner of Calhoun and Jefferson streets, and Detective Sergeant Joseph Brennan was sent there. The officer had just got inside the store when Williams arrived with his bundle of cigars and was arrested. At headquarters he put up a bold front, said he was a cigar agent and that in his work was given an allowance of goods for the "boomer trade" —that is, cigars to be given away introducing the goods. He said he had run short of money and was disposing of his road stock to raise a bit of ready cash. His stock, he said, he had had out with him for three months, but the revenue stamps bore the perforated date of October 2, 1914. When shown this evidence, Williams wilted and confessed. He admits having twice done time for the same offense he committed here. He is a young man of about 22 years and dresses well. He had been stopping at the Anthony, sharing another man's room and was not registered.

Despoilers of Girls Bound Over.

Walter Wells and William Bobb, charged with criminal assault on Susie Fisher and Margaret Toensing, 15-year-old girls whom they took automobile riding on the night of September 25 and abused, waived arraignment, pleaded not guilty and were held to the circuit court under bonds of $1,000 each. Little testimony was taken and that merely to prove the ages of the girls. To the officers and prosecutor the young men have told stories that make no denial of their guilt.

Other City Court Cases.

Jim Freeman, the young criminal captured Monday by Officers Clark and Lawhead of the Pennsylvania railway police after a long chase, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery and continued until October 26. His bond was fixed at $200. Frank Ward, arrested Monday as a witness, was released on his own recognizance.

Fred Snow, Fred O'Connor and John Elvin, drunks, were continued under bonds of $25 each for appearance later in the week.

John Van Allen, thought to have been stealing cheap jewelry from a ten-cent store on Calhoun street, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and drew $1 and costs.

Jim Nolan and Mike Durman, arrested Sunday after a fight on the banks of the Maumee river back of the Moran ice plant, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and got $5 and costs each.

RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED.

The residence of J. C. Braeuer, 1232 Fairfield avenue, was burglarized between midnight and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and $72 cash was taken. The robbery was discovered by Albert Braeuer, a son, who was awakened from his sleep by the noise of the thief passing through the house. The back door, of which the lock had evidently been picked, was found open. Four pairs of trousers taken from different parts of the second floor of the house were found below where the thief had left them after rifling the pockets. A gold watch at first thought to have been stolen was found later. The larger part of the stolen money belonged to Albert Braeuer.

Kaiser's Warships Prepare for Action

London, Oct. 20.—(1:34 p. m.)—Nothing has been received up to the present time from the German intelligence department to counteract the British impression conveyed in the news, both official and unofficial here that the tide of battle both in the eastern and the western theatres is not for the moment flowing in favor of Germany.

The picture, however, continues so blurred that it is impossible except for the commanders on the spot accurately to guage the effect of the momentary change on the ultimate result, so it may very well be that the German general staff when it considers the time right, will present a scene of an entirely different aspect.

The Belgian minister at London has no confirmation of the story that the allies have reoccupied Ostand, but in any case the Germans hold on that seaport must be somewhat precarious if the allies retain the positions assigned to them in the latest French statements.

Should the allies push their wedge beyond Roulers, where its point rested yesterday, Ostend would be in considerable danger of being cut off from the rest of the German army.

The Germans are making great efforts to break through their opponents' lines in the neighborhood of Arras where, as Gen. Joffre's statement points out, fighting has proceeded for ten days without a respite.

News Is Negative.

News of the conflict of millions of men along the Vistula river, in Russian Poland, is mostly of a negative character. Each of the vast armies claims its opponents are on the defensive. The Austrians for the moment are claiming far more success against the Russians than are the Germans, but even admitting the correctness of their claims their army, which alleged to be driving the Muscovites out of the Carpathian mountains, still are at least 70 miles south of Przemysl and Lemberg.

Further to the southward the Servians are utilizing all their available strength in a general assault on Sarajevo. They are especially desirous of being in possession of the Bosnian capital before the court has given its decision in the trial of Gavrio Prinzip, whose assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the Austrian heir-apparent, was the direct excuse for the war of the nations.

That significance attaches to the announcement that Canada will keep sending batches of volunteer reinforcements each numbering 10,000 men so long as the war lasts, is fully appreciated in comments heard both in London and on the continent.

GERMANS PROUD OF NAVY.

Berlin, Oct. 20.—(By Wireless to Sayville)—Press information given out today in German official circles says:

"Although the news of the fate of the German torpedo boats, S-115, S-117, S-118 and S-119, which were sunk by British warships off the Dutch coast, has aroused feelings of deep regret throughout the German empire, the loss of the ships will rather increase than decrease the pride of the Germans for their navy. The crews are much bemourned, but the vessels were old and of little value.

"Senator Stranda, of Hamburg, has been appointed civil governor of Antwerp.

"Two Belgian majors have related to a war correspondent of the Nieuewe Rotterdamsche Courant that one half of the Belgian army has been interned in Holland. A quarter of the whole army has deserted, they declare, and the last quarter is so disorganized that they are only a burden to the British and the French armies.

That the allies are frustrating the attempt of the reinforced extreme right wing of the German army to reach the English connel with the supposed object of finding a new route to Paris, is indicated by the French official statement given out this afternoon, which asserts that the Belgian army is maintaining its position on the river Yser. Further actions, the statement adds, are being fought between the allies and the Germans in the region of Ypres, Belgium. From Ypres the allied left wing extends to the English channel, where it is being supported by British naval forces.

Along the remainder of the battle front, stretching from the North sea to Switzerland, where the defenders and invaders have been entrenched for 37 days, the only activity noted is that in the region of the Meuse river, where heavy firing goes on incessantly, principally in the vicinity of camp des Romains.

French batteries at St. Mihiel, south of Verdun, are reported to have destroyed an entire battery of German artillery, which had been active in sweeping the French lines.

A huge conflict is in progress along the Vistula river, in Russian Poland. Dispatches from Petrograd declare that after fierce fighting to the west of Warsaw the Germans have been driven back towards their main positions on a line from Skiernewice, near Lodz, to Sandomir, on the Galician border.

Tokio officially announces that the German torpedo boat S-90, after escaping under cover of darkness from Tsing Tau, ran ashore at a point south of Kiao Chow bay and was destroyed by the Japanese blockading squadron. It was the S-90, according to a message from Tsing Tau, which sunk the Japanese cruiser Tackachiho.

Advices from Bucharest, Roumania, by way of Berlin, reiterates earlier reports that a big Russo-Turkish naval engagement has been fought in the Black sea.

James W. Gerard, the American ambassador at Berlin, has succeeded in arranging for the release and departure of all Englishmen in Germany over 55 years of age. Similar exchanges have been arranged for the nationals of France and Austria.

Berlin announces that German warships sank a British submarine in the North sea last Sunday.

Mr. Pitzer, advance agent for the evangelist, will arrive in Fort Wayne some time in November to superintend the erection of the building, which will be made of rough lumber so built that it can be easily taken down without serious injury to the material. No floor will be put in the building, but the ground will be levelled and covered with a heavy layer of shavings. The building will be heated with large stoves and furnished in every way to make everyone comfortable.

At the meeting of the executive committee for the union revival meetings, C. H. Worden was elected treasurer and W. E. Doud, chairman of the building committee. Rev. C. C. Travis, chairman of the prayer meeting committee, has mapped out his plans of operation and presented them. Previous to the meetings, which begin December 27, a number of public meetings will be held at which time laymen from various cities where Dr. Lyons has worked will tell some interesting facts about the results and happenings in their city.

W. B. Merrill, of the Fort Wayne Bill Posting company, very kindly offered to remove his bill boards from the lot during the meetings to make room for the building, and also offered to post all bills free of charge.

IS NOW PREPARED TO ENVELOP CITY

May Imprison Entire Conference If It Doesn't Do His Bidding.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 20.—The Mexican consulate here today received a report from Mexico City stating that Gen. Francisco Villa created a panic among the delegates to the convention of military chiefs in Aguas Calientes today by moving an army of 18,000 men into position where he can envelop the city and imprison the entire conference.

Villa's army is reported to be within an hour's march of Aguas Calientes. To oppose him there are Carranza's troops at Monterey and Saltillo, but it would take from four to five hours to get them to Aguas Calientes.

Appeal to Carranza.

According to the message to the consulate here the delegates at Aguas Calientes, who include many chiefs of the constitutionaliat army, have made an appeal to Carranza to guarantee their freedom during the convention, which was resumed today.

RESERVE BANKS OPEN BY NOV. 16

Washington, Oct. 20.—Secretary McAdoo, speaking today to the directing boards of twelve reserve banks expressed the belief that the banks can be opened by Nov. 16. It is not expected that they shall immediately be able to perform all their functions but that some of them will be in condition to undertake to receive deposits from member banks and have the machinery ready for re-discount purposes.

More than 76 representatives were present. After a speech by Gov. Hamlin, of the reserve board, the meeting divided into committees to take up some of the technical questions confronting the banks.

WILSON SIGNS ALASKAN BILL

Washington, Oct. 20.—President Wilson today signed the Alaskan coal land leasing bill, opening the coal fields of Alaska. Because of restrictions put on the output of coal from Canada to Alaska, since the European war began, the bill was hurried through congress at the request of Secretary Lane and several western senators.

The war revenue bill went forward another step today when the house sent it to conference with the senate managers disagreeing to all amendments, Speaker Clark appointed Representatives Underwood and Kitchin, democrats, and Payne, republican, as conferees.

WEEK GIVEN OVER TO THE LAWYERS

Steel Corporation Files Voluminous Brief in Own Defense.

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—Final argument in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation, the greatest combination of capital in the world, on the ground that it was created in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, was begun here today before four United States circuit judges sitting as the United States court of the District of New Jersey, in which jurisdiction the proceedings were instituted.

The case is being heard by Judge Buffington, who is presiding; McPherson Hunt, formerly of the commerce court, and Wooley, recently appointed to succeed Judge Gray, retired. It was agreed the entire week should be devoted to arguments.

J. M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, who has had charge of the case for the government since its inception, opened the argument. Henry E. Colton, special assistant to the attorney general, will also speak for the government.

Counsel who appeared for the Steel corporation and will speak during the week are: Richard V. Lindabury, Newark, N. J.; John G. Johnson, Philadel-

CARMAN TRIAL IS MOVING RAPIDLY

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 20.—Speed almost unparalleled in a murder trial marked the second day's forenoon session in the trial of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, charged with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, the defendant's husband, in Freeport, on June 30 last.

In two and a half hours the district attorney made his address to the jury and a dozen witnesses testified for the state. The star witnesses for the prosecution, however, were yet to take the stand, as District Attorney Smith seemed to have decided to develop the state's case in chronological sequence.

The first witnesses, therefore, simply established the whereabouts of the victim on the day of the murder, her death, its cause—a bullet wound—and but few of the details of the crime.

Elizabeth Coleman, the negro maid in the Carman household, and two other witnesses upon whom the state leans heavily, were to take the stand, it was believed, this afternoon.

Mrs. Varance testified that on April 20 last, before coming into the office to slap her, Mrs. Carman rattled the same window through which Mrs. Bailey was afterwards shot.

BELGIANS IN THE FIGHTING

Paris, Oct. 20.—(2:25 p. m.)—The French official communication this afternoon says the Belgian army is holding its position on the river Yser. The official communication follows:

"In Belgium, in spite of violent attacks on the part of the enemy the Belgian army has held its position on the line of the river Yser.

"On the Meuse the enemy has endeavored in vain to drive back the advance points of our troops, who have moved out along the right bank of this stream in the peninsula of the Camp des Romains.

"To sum up, during the day of October 19, we have made progress at various points on the front.

Russia.—In East Prussia and on the Vistula river there is no change in the situation. The efforts of the Austrians to cross the river San have been repulsed. The battle south of Przemysl is continuing under conditions favorable to the Russians."

Belgians Win French Praise.

Increasing satisfaction was shown by the people of Paris today on reading the late reports from the front. These indicate that the allies are continuing their offensive operations which in the opinion of French observers promise the best results. The action of the Belgian army and of a squadron of British warships in repulsing an attack by the enemy is a subject of favorable comment.

Word has been received that the Germans are hastily preparing new defensive works around Strassburg and digging innumerable trenches in front of this city. Vineyards have been levelled by the German engineers in carrying out this work.

The fighting in the vicinity of Lille has been watched with deep interest here and it is hoped that not many days will pass before the allies take this position.

FOES REPULSED, ASSERTS BERLIN

Amsterdam, Oct. 20.—The following official communication from Berlin, dated Oct. 20, has been received in Amsterdam:

"Yesterday the attacks of the enemy west of Lille were repulsed, the enemy suffering heavy losses. In the eastern theatre of the war there has been no material change."

New York, Oct. 20.—The taking of testimony in the trial of Jared Flagg, accused by the government of fraudulent use of the mails was delayed today when several members of the tentative jury selected yesterday were peremptorily challenged—four by the government and three by the defense. The work of filling their places was expected to take the rest of the day. Flagg is charged with Daniel N. Morgan, former United States treasurer, and six others, with swindling stock investors. Flagg is being tried first.

BOTH LINES STILL FIGHTING FIERCELY

London, Oct. 20.—(10:00 a. m.)—The plunging Germans' attacks on the allied line near the Belgian coast between Nieuport and Dixmude, similar tactics by the allies in France between Arras and Roye, where progress is claimed, a continued allied assault on Lille, still held by the Germans, and stubborn fighting in the vicinity of St. Mihiel, where for days the allies have been trying to drive the Germans from their southernmost lodgment, were the acute points today in the sprawling battle area of France and Belgium.

The communications issued in behalf of the allies last night enabled Britons to visualize for the first time in ten days the approximate battle line after crossing the Belgian frontier and showed how the allies during the days of censorship were throwing their forces westward to meet the inevitable German advance which followed the taking of Ostend.

The fighting is now centering only a few miles southwest of that city and the Belgian army, heretofore reported as having repulsed the Germans on the banks of the river Yser, is again in the thick of the fight, being credited with bending back the German line as far as Roulers, Belgium, thirteen miles northwest of Courtrai, which point they are holding, according to the latest reports available when this dispatch was written.

A dispatch dated merely "North of France" says that the allies have retaken Ostend, but this is not confirmed and is at variance with the German contention that they have reached the neighborhood of Dunkirk, whose inhabitants, as well as those of Boulogne, are in a state of panic. If the Belgians are holding Roulers it seems incredible that the Germans have advanced so far as that would mean a complete bending back of the allied left which rests on the coast west of Ostend.

Torrential rains have been falling recently near the scene of the coast fighting, making the flat country a sea of mud and this, with the network of canals, makes the movement of German guns extremely difficult. The Germans, however, are still bringing up reinforcements, a message from Amsterdam saying that troops of all arms are steadily moving westward between Wetteren and Teronde, towards the French frontier. It was added that the men were of all ages and were accompanied by heavy guns, supposed for Ostend.

The London press is unanimously hailing the German attempt to sweep through Belgium to the north France coast towns as a failure. It may be true that the progress from Ostend has been slower than the usual impetuous German rush, but it seems premature to say that they have failed until something more decisive occurs between Roulers and the coast or one side or the other strikes a sharp blow to the south.

News from the east shows no notable change in the battle lines there. The Russians contend that the Germans are still held on the Vistula and San rivers.

COLONEL TALKS FOR BEVERIDGE

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Col. Roosevelt's hurried auto trip through northern Indiana yesterday was pretty much an ovation all the way. In all the smaller towns men, women and children lined the single streets to get a look at the "Big Bull Moose." In the larger towns, the manufacturing centers, large crowds of workers choked the main street along which the Roosevelt party passed.

At Gary 2,000 people tried to crowd into the theater, and half as many more were on the outside. At Hammond on the way home 5,000 people had congregated in the parkway around the public library. The colonel was in a hurry and did not stop, only rising in his automobile and bowing to the big throng. They shouted for a speech, but he shook his head and pointed to his watch.

Appeal for Beveridge.

The purpose of the Indiana trip was to make an appeal in behalf of Albert J. Beveridge, moose candidate for the United States senate post.

"I am glad of this opportunity to be with you Indiana folks," Col. Roosevelt said in his main speech at the Gary theater, "because I consider Indiana as progressive today as California. I am glad of the opportunity also to speak for Mr. Beveridge, who is making precisely the same fight here in Indiana that we made two years ago and that I am now making in New York. It is a fight for decent popular government."

Then the colonel ripped into the two old parties, burning all his bridges and serving notice on the republican leaders that he was out of the republican party for all time.

"Men of all parties," he said, "might just as well make up their minds now that the progressive party is here to stay. It is here just as the republican party succeeded the old whig party when Abraham Lincoln was elected president."

Says Only Moose Can Run Nation.

Taking up the platforms of the old parties, Col. Roosevelt said neither the republican nor the democratic party as constituted today could run the government in the interests of all the people.

"I have been amused by the claim that the republican leaders put out to the effect that the republican party is coming back," Mr. Roosevelt said. "That is not true. The republican party is not coming back, but is going back, while the progressive party is going forward. It does not look back or go back.

"We said two years ago that the democratic party could not administer this government well, and it hasn't. We told you the truth then. We insist today that reactionary and vicious influences control the republican party, and selfish interests dominate the democratic party in congress."

The Store that Does Things

SAYS WILSON HAS MERELY STARTED

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 20.—A special train carrying Wm. J. Bryan, secretary of state, and members of the Kansas state democratic committee, left here today for a tour of southeastern Kansas. Mr. Bryan began the day, the second of his present visit to that state with an early morning speech at Kansas City, Kan.

"The work of President Wilson has only started," he said. "To carry it on we are urging the people of Kansas to send more democrats to Washington.

"The last time I appeared here I acted as attorney for the prosecution. Now I appear to justify and defend the acts of the administration of Mr. Wilson."

PUT TORCH TO CHURCH.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Fire which wrecked St. Charles Borromeo's Catholic church yesterday was pronounced by the police last night to have been of incendiary origin. The police are also planning to reopen an investigation into a fire October 12, which burned St. Jarlath's Catholic church and which started in somewhat similar circumstances as yesterday's blaze.

St. Charles Borromeo's church had been closed for several months. The blaze started in the interior of the organ.

The police in investigating commented on the reports from New York where on October 13 dynamite bombs were exploded in St. Patrick's cathedral and St. Alphonsus church.

Sullivan, Ind., Oct. 20.—Thaddeus E. Meeker, of Veedersburg, a trustee of Union Christian college at Merom and owner of a large dairy farm, was burned to death in his barn last night. VOGEL FAMILY ASKS AUTOPSY

Coroner Will Seek Cause of Sudden Death of Indicted Man.

New York, Oct. 20.—On orders from Coroner Hellenstein, issued, it was stated, at the request of the family, physicians today will perform an autopsy to determine the cause of the death last night of Frank E. Vogel, who with his business associate, Henry Siegel, was to have gone on trial this month on indictments charging grand larceny and receiving bank deposits while insolvent, in connection with their department stores in this city.

Vogel, with his wife, who was Miss Blanche Siegel, a niece of his partner, and their two children, returned on Sunday to New York from their country home in Briar Cliff. Vogel was then in his usual health and apparently in good spirits. Yesterday he rose at his usual hour, went down town on business and after luncheon went, as was his practice, for a walk. He returned to his hotel apartment about 5 o'clock and a few minutes later was stricken. Heart disease was given as the cause of death. Vogel and Henry Siegel were each under 14 indictments which followed the failure of the Siegel stores and banks.

Early in the summer the two bankers and merchants asked for a change of venue in their trial, alleging they could not get justice here. This was granted June 1 and the trial was set for this month at Geneseo, Livingston county.

NOT KILLED BY LIONS.

Death of Young Emerson at Chicago May Have Been Murder.

New York, Oct. 20.—Ernest G. W. Dietrich, a Brooklyn architect, received a telegram from Boston yesterday, according to members of his family, calling him to that city to investigate a report that a lion trainer had confessed there that he shot Dietrich's son, Emerson, in Chicago last June. Emerson Dietrich, was found in a cage of lions in a show of which he was manager while in Chicago and it was stated at that time that the lions attacked and killed him.

According to the dispatch from Boston the trainer, in what is purported to be a confession, declared he threw young Dietrich's body into the cage after killing him.

The dead man was a merchant. The others are miners.

WILSON WELCOMES BAR ASSOCIATION

Washington, Oct. 20.—With an address of welcome by President Wilson, with former President Taft in the chair and the entire supreme court sitting as guests of honor, the American Bar association today began its annual session here.

In his introduction of President Wilson Mr. Taft pledged the association's earnest co-operation and its deepest personal confidence in the president's ability and purpose to guide the ship of state safely through the European crisis. Mr. Taft declared the American people were back of the president in his handling of the international situation and that he had the confidence of the nation.

President Wilson's response was that his strength rested in the confidence of the people. He pleaded for the "humanizing of the law" in this time of international crisis, not only as respect to international law, but as to municipal law.

His reference to himself as a lawyer, who had reformed, brought forth tumultous applause. He said the world was now "stirred to its depths," but that the best course for a nation to pursue was the disinterested part. He added that the unsettled world conditions made a good time for freeing the law from the dry consideration of cold precedents and injecting into it more of the view points of justice for the ordinary man.

"The opinion of the world is the mistress of the world; and the processes of international law are the slow processes by which opinion works its will," said President Wilson.

"What impresses me is the constant thought that that is the tribunal at the bar of which we all sit. I would call your attention, incidentally, to the circumstances that it does not observe the ordinary rules of evidence which has sometimes suggested to me that the ordinary rules of evidence had shown some signs of growing antique.

"Everything, rumor included, is heard in this court, and the standard of judgment is not with regard to the character of the testimony but the character of the witness. The motives are disclosed, the purposes are conjectured, and that opinion is finally accepted which seems to be, not the best founded in law perhaps, but the best founded in integrity of character and of morals. That is the process which is slowly working its will upon the world and what we should be watchful of is not so much jealous interests as sound principles of action. The disinterested course is always the biggest course to pursue, not only, but it is in the long run the most profitable course to pursue.

FRENCH BATTERIES TELLING IN EFFECT

On the Battle Front, Via Paris, Oct. 20.—On the eastern wing, along the Meuse, heavy fighting is incessant and in this the French artillery is playing a most important part. The concentrated fire of several French batteries at St. Mihiel Monday destroyed a complete battery of heavy German artillery, which had been causing great annoyance.

It was due to the clever work of a French artilleryman that this was accomplished. Carrying a portable field telephone he hid himself for two days near the German position and informed his comrades in his rear of the positions of the German guns and the direction in which they should fire. This information rendered the German position untenable and when his work was done the brave gunner returned safely to the French lines.

The scenes behind the battle lines denote the characteristics of the various nations engaged. The French soldiers are very gay, singing when they return from the trenches and always seeking to learn the news from any new arrival from the rear. They gather branches from bushes to make fires on which they boil their soup and coffee.

The Belgians are somewhat the same in character, but the recent damage to so many cities in Belgium has rendered them rather gloomy, though they are still full of fight and sure of eventual victory.

The British appear to be ready to seize the slightest opportunity to play some game when off actual duty. They are always cleanly shaven and love to plunge into a creek or river. Behind their trenches are many kneading troughs captured from the German commissariat and turned into tubs.

The Indian troops maintain a calm silence, except when in action. Then they utter wild cries in their eastern languages as they enter the fight. The Moroccan auxiliaries, known as "Gunniers," maintain all their African habits. They apparently are always ready to rest anywhere that they may find themselves, but sleep with the bridle over their arm and spring into action at the slightest movement or noise.

JAPS GET REVENGE ON GERMAN CRAFT

Tokio, Oct. 20.—It was announced officially in Tokio today that the German torpedo boat S-90, which, after destroying the Japanese cruiser Takachiho, escaped from Tsing Tau under cover of darkness, had been found aground and destroyed by the Japanese at a point sixty miles south of Kiao Chow bay.

BUT THREE ESCAPED.

Sasebo, Japan, Oct. 20.—4 p. m.—According to information reaching here today only three of the 284 members of the crew of the Japanese cruiser Takachiho, which was sunk by a mine in Kiao Chow bay on the night of October 17, survive the disaster. The body of Captain Ito has been recovered.

The mast of the cruiser is visible above the water. It is believed that she ventured too close to the harbor.

BAN ON LIQUORS TO BE PERMANENT

Perograd, Russia, Oct. 20.—The Russian government will never again embark in the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks. This statement, confirming previous reports, has been made in the name of Emperor Nicholas himself.

The Russian Union of Abstinence, which devotes its energies to the combating of alcoholism, addressed to Emperor Nicholas a solicitation that he forbid forever the sale of spirituous liquors in Russia.

His majesty replied in a telegram sent in the name of Grand Duke Constantine and addressed to the president of the alliance in which he said: "I thank you; I long ago decided to interdict for all time in Russia the sale of alcoholic drinks by the government."

Every mother realizes that this is the children's ideal laxative and physic, because they love its pleasant taste and it never fails to effect a thorough "inside cleansing" without griping.

When your child is cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomachache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember a good liver and bowel cleaning should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on each bottle.

KENDALLVILLE MAN ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Albion, Ind., Oct. 20.—The taking of testimony began today in the Noble circuit court before Judge Luke H. Wrigley and a jury of farmers in the case of the State against Charles L. Cushing, a Kendallville market gardener, for the murder of Howard McLaughlin, a 16-year-old lad whose home was in Lansing, Mich. A jury was obtained Monday at 3:30 o'clock with the following in the panel: Edwin Ditmars, Swan township; Albert Johnson, Jefferson township; Charles Bowman, York township; Frank Hanlon, Green township; Bayard T. Kuhn, Albion; George F. Breuninger, Washington township; William O. Prouty, Jefferson township; Irwin Cazier, York township; John Friskney, Green township; John L. Rowe, Green township; Charles Pollock, York township; William Bowen, Albion. All of the jurors except one are farmers. As soon as the jury had been passed by both sides Prosecuting Attorney M. V. Spangler, of Albion, began the presentation of the state's case. Court adjourned in the evening until 9 o'clock this morning, when the examination of witnesses began. Besides Prosecuting Attorney Spangler the state is represented by Deputy Prosecutor Harry F. Helwig, of Kendallville, and Attorneys Grant & Foot, of Albion. For Cushing appear Fred L. Bodehafer, of Kendallville, and Maj. Donn Smith, a well known criminal lawyer of Chicago, who was employed by Dr. Guy Cushing, a well known physician of Chicago and brother of the defendant, to assist in the defense. Young McLaughlin was killed at 7:30 o'clock on the evening of August 12, last, on the Lake Shore railway right of way adjoining the Cushing property. McLaughlin and two young companions were enroute as tramps from Detroit to Elkhart. Hoboes had been raiding the Cushing melon patch and he thought the lads were of the marauders and fired at them, hitting McLaughlin and killing him almost instantly.

Goshen, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Caroline Steinmetz, of Goshen, aged 86 years, is dead. Intense grief over the loss of her son, John Steinmetz, of Goshen, who died Aug. 25, precipitated the illness which caused her death. Because of her precarious condition she was not told of the death of another son, William, who died at South Bend just seven days before her death. She had been in good health until the first death mentioned, after which she began failing rapidly.

Deceased was the widow of Frederick Steinmetz, who died sixteen years ago. She was born in Germany in 1839 and came to this country in 1852. Three weeks after her arrival here she was married to Mr. Steinmetz in Pennsylvania. Since 1859 she had resided in Elkhart county. During her fifty-five years' residence in this vicinity she had become very well known.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 20. Donald Burns, 21, and William Sullivan, 22, Upland glassworkers, had a narrow escape from death at night when in an intoxicated condition they lay down between the two main tracks of the Pennsylvania lines, near the coal docks, west of the city. The boys were lying in such a position that they would have been struck by a passing train. This was avoided, however, when Railroad Detective Grover Griffith, of this city, and Lieut. Strahle and his brother, Charles Strahle, who is also a railroad sleuth, found the pair and brought them to this city.

Rolston was arrested on a charge of burglarizing the Spitler grocery. HUMAN SYSTEM INJURED BY ONE CUP OF COFFEE

The constant use of coffee and tea tends to increase fatigue products in the human system, says Dr. G. Wilse Robinson, of the University Medical College, Kansas City, Mo.

"Caffeine is used in coffee and tea as a beverage for its stimulating effects. Even in small doses, one cup of coffee or tea per day, the general results of the action of caffeine upon the nervous system are to increase the irritability of the brain.

"In order to respond to the stimulation of regular doses of caffeine, nerve and muscle tissue must draw upon their reserve energy, and they must do their work in the presence of an excessive quantity of toxic fatigue products, and both of these conditions tend to exhaustion and perversion of function.

NOTE.—Too much cannot be said in favor of the value of an invigorating morning drink, especially during colder weather—but the drink must not be harmful. The food-drink, INSTANT POSTUM, while resembling the better grades of Java in flavor and appearance is pure, wholesome and wholly free from the coffee drugs "caffeine" and "tannin" and is rapidly taking the place of coffee as a table beverage for reasons of health.—Adv.

INTENSE ITCHING OF ECZEMA

Pimples in Clusters. Kept Getting Worse. Clothing Irritated. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed in Two Weeks.

P. O. Box 13, Kimball, Neb.—"My right limb began itching in several places. Then the eczema came in the form of pimples in clusters and after I would scratch them they would form one lump. It kept getting worse. The itching was intense. My clothing irritated the eruption, also the air. I could not sleep.

"I sent to the drug store and got a bottle of so-called ——— ——— which did no good. I tried everything recommended for it but it kept getting worse. A year after the beginning of the itching I was covered with big itching blotches and the itching was terrible. I could do nothing but scratch and the more I scratched the worse it would itch and burn. I saw a testimonial someone had written about being healed of eczema with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. Then I sent to the drug store and got some more. In two days I was better, in a week the itching had stopped and in two weeks the eczema was all gone." (Signed) Mrs. Henry H. Prouty, Apr. 21, 1914.

19 And the Lord said, Who shall entice Ahab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one spake saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.

20 Then there came out a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will entice him. And the Lord said unto him, Wherewith?

21 And he said, I will go out and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said, Thou shalt entice him, and thou shalt also prevail; go out, and do even so.

23 Then Zedekiah the son of Chenaanah came near, and smote Micaiah upon the cheek, and said, Which way went the Spirit of the Lord from me to speak unto thee?

24 And Micaiah said, Behold thou shalt see on that day when thou shalt go into an inner chamber to hide thyself.

25 Then the king of Israel said, Take ye Micaiah, and carry him back to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joash the king's son;

26 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellow in the prison, and feed him with bread of affliction and with water of affliction, until I return in peace.

27 And Micaiah said, If thou certainly return in peace, then hath not the Lord spoken by me. And he said, Hearken, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel and Jehoshaphat the king of Judah went up to Ramoth-gilead.

29 And the king of Israel said unto Jehoshaphat, I will disguise myself, and will go to the battle, but put thou on thy robes. So the king of Israel disguised himself; and they went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight ye not with small or great, save only with the king of Israel.

31 And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Jehoshaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel. Therefore they compassed about him to fight: but Jehoshaphat cried out, and the Lord helped him; and God moved them to depart from him.

Coming Changes in Congress.

Whatever shall be the outcome of the congressional elections this fall, the next house is certain to be a vastly changed body. Some thirty democrats who have been conspicuous in the work during the long session since Wilson assumed the presidential chair will not be of the house membership when the new session convenes in March. Some of them are going to the senate, and some of them will retire to private life, but the change in personnel is going to be striking.

The president will need to look about for a new democratic house leader on account of the elevation of Representative Underwood to a senatorship from Alabama. As chairman of the powerful ways and means committee Mr. Underwood has easily been the one foremost figure in engineering the democratic legislative program. He has been constantly in the limelight, and on but one occasion—that of the free canal tolls repeal has he declined to follow the Wilson course. Underwood is tremendousy popular among his political friends and his political foes alike, and there has been the most general recognition of his ability. The house will part with Underwood with profound regret, and it may be difficult to secure a successor who will wield the power of house leadership as skilfully and as wisely as has the Alabama man through the vast legislative undertakings of the present congress.

Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, defeated for the senate, will retire. Sharp, of Ohio, is in France, ready to assume the duties of the ambassadorship. Murray, of Massachusetts, has resigned to become postmaster at Boston. Covington, of Maryland, has been appointed a member of the supreme bench of the District of Columbia, as has also McCoy, of New Jersey. Broussard, of Louisiana, goes to the senate. Murdock, of Kansas, has ended his term of service in the house by running for the senate under an admittedly slim chance of election. Burke, of South Dakota, has rather better chances for the senate. Willis, of Ohio, is the republican nominee for governor in his home state. Bartholdt, of Missouri, has had enough of public life, and will quit.

Regardless of how the elections may turn out, seven men, who now are serving in the senate, will remain at home after March 4. These are Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio; Joseph L. Bristow, of Kansas; Coe I. Crawford, of South Dakota; George C. Perkins, of California; Elihu Root, of New York; Isaac Stephenson, of Wisconsin, and Francis S. White, of Alamaba. Only two of these men desired to be returned to the senate, Bristow and Crawford. Both were defeated at primary elections.

The New Angle on Temperance.

Russia, where the czar is the monopoly bartender, closed all the vodka shops while the moujiks were mobilizing; and now George Kennan reports the social results so striking that the closure is to be made permanent. If true, this is the largest "dry" victory yet recorded.

At the recent national "safety first" conference, delegates representing a million workers took a pledge to stay on the water cart—not on moral grounds, but because they felt that booze and safety were better apart.

Sobriety by ukase may be hard to establish and difficult to defend; but the call of safety, of clear headedness of fitness for the job is a mighty hard thing to [illegible]

Boston Herald:—"The mutiny of Colonel Maritz, with a part of the South African defence force under his command, may cause serious trouble for a time, though in the end it will doubtless be crushed along with the German invasion which he seeks to lead.

"Matter of Speculation."

"England's Severest Blow."

Baltimore American: "The outbreak of the new Boer war, the precipitation of the conflict in South Africa into the general war zone, is the severest blow that has happened to England during the present conflict."

"General Botha."

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph:—"It counts for something in favor of the British that General Louis Botha, a commander of the Boer forces in the war with Great Britain, is Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa and as such the practical head of the government, and that he is pro-British."

"The British Blunder."

Boston Advertiser: "The British government made its blunder when it ordered the Boers to organize and march against the Germans in Africa. Germany countered by offering to re-establish the independent South African Republic which England has destroyed."

"Minor Disturbances."

Buffalo Courier: "Minor disturbances such as threaten in South Africa may have no perceptible influence on the great conflict in Europe, but they contribute for its character as a world war and considerate affairs."

"Martial Law."

Philadelphia Inquirer: "While the fact that the government has deemed it wise to proclaim martial law throughout the Union indicates that it regards the situation as serious, it will hardly have any difficulty in suppressing the revolt which Germany has fomented."

"Mutiny Will be Confined."

Syracuse Herald: "As the administration of the South African Union with General Botha, the one time Boer commander at the head, is friendly to the British cause, it is probable that the Maritz mutiny will be confined within a local sphere."

INDISPENSABLE HUMAN ELEMENT

(Chicago Herald)

In her address before the National Council of Industrial Safety, now in session in this city, Miss Ida M. Tarbell said: "The secret of eliminating accidents, in my opinion, is one-third safety and two-thirds organization and education."

To put it differently, no matter how we exercise our ingenuity in devising improvements the human element remains by far the most important factor.

This is true not only of the special case Miss Tarbell had in mind. It is true of every devise in politics, business, banking, commerce and social reform.

There is no device that will relieve men and women of the responsibility of helping to make the machinery of the government work right—and of the major part of the responsibility at that.

There is no form of progressive city charter, though it be studded thick with all the approved devices, that can be expected to do even a third of the work of keeping the city's affairs straight.

There is no species of organization for social betterment that will relieve the people who are to be helped from the necessity of doing a large proportion of the work of bettering themselves.

Wherever we look in the realm of human activity it is the same. Machinery may be improved, but responsibility remains. After the best machinery has been devised and adopted men and women have to see that it works right.

One-third device at the most and two-thirds men and women at the very least,—that is an essential fact which States and cities bent on reform forget at their peril.

FACT NO. 3.

The vast benefits expressed in the cost of administering government and in the political, social and industrial progress to come through a new constitution, constitutes one of the most powerful arguments for revision of our present outworn state constitution.

The cost of such a convention, emphasized so strenuously by the opposition, would be but an insignificant item in comparison with the benefits. If the Hoosiers of 1851 had been of the same fearful mind as to cost of a convention, we would today be living in the back woods, buckskin breeches conditions imposed by the original constitution of 1816. The cost of a convention is the necessary and inevitable price of progress in state and community life.

The increased efficiency of municipal government possible through a system of home rule for cities would unquestionably result in a large reduction in cost of administration. Through simplified machinery of state administration other vast savings could be made.

The expense of holding the Ohio constitutional convention of 1912 was $267,571. The special election which ratified the constitution cost $204,956, making a total cost of $472,527. And Ohio has one-third more votes than Indiana. Governor Cox of that state has stated that Ohio effected a saving of $4,000,000 in expense of administration during the first year under the new constitution. This is equal to eight times the cost of securing the constitution.

Taxation experts declare that proper readjustment of our outworn taxation system would place on the tax list enough intangible property that now escapes the assessor to alone pay the cost of a new constitution.

But the more important public benefits to come from a constitutional convention can not, and should not, be measured by dollars and cents standards. The progressive political and social legislation that would eventually result from it; the stimulus it would give to the study of public questions; the awakening of interest on the part of the people in the big problems of citizenship, are much the larger factors.

GIRLISH COMPLEXION NOW EASILY ACQUIRED.

"A skin of blended snow, cream and rose" is the way an Ohio correspondent describes her newly acquired complexion. She is one who has adopted mercolized wax in place of cosmetics, massage, steaming and other methods. Many who have tried this marvelous wax report that its effects are quite different from those of any other treatment. It produces a complexion of exquisite girlish naturalness, rather than one bearing evidence of having been artificially "made over." One that is indeed "Nature's own," the result of gradually absorbing dead particles of surface skin, permitting the younger, healthier skin beneath to show itself and giving its pores a chance to breathe. Mercolized wax, procurable at any drug store in original one ounce package, is put on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.

I have also had many favorable letters from those who have tried the wrinkle removing face bath which I recommended recently. If any have mislaid the formula, here it is: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel.—"Natalie" in the Woman Militant.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Henry R. Freeman, teller of the First National bank, has returned from Washington, D. C.

Trainmaster Sol K. Blair accompanied the Nickel Plate pay car on its trip over the western division today.

Master Eddie, son of Capt. J. H. Rohan, fell from a horse last evening and sustained a dislocation of the wrist.

D. M. Miller stated to a Sentinel reporter today that another story would surely be added to the Aveline hotel building in the spring.

It is understood that the Peru Sentinel will be sold to Grant Weissell, of the Warren News, and Peter Pernot, of this city, well known in newspaper circles.

Hon. J. B. White was elected an honorary member of the Forty-fourth Indiana regimental association which has just held its annual reunion in Pierceton.

Fred Crall, of Ashland, O., who came to this city yesterday to visit relatives, has accepted a position as bookkeeper and stenographer in the offices of the Hoosier Manufacturing company.

The blow-out of the natural gas mains yesterday attracted hundreds of people to the reducing station southwest of the city. It was a rich treat for those who never witnessed such a sight.

Gustavus Greensfelder is confined to his home, 25 Ewing street, by serious injuries sustained when he fell from a wagon belonging to Jacob Klett. The heavily loaded vehicle passed over the aged man's body.

At a surprise party held at the home of D. B. Kehler on Spy Run avenue, last evening, that gentleman was presented with a handsome gold watch as a testimonial from his fellow employes in the Fort Wayne Furniture works, of which he is treasurer.

A few days ago it was estimated that there were four hundred car loads of apples along the line of the Lake Shore railroad between Fort Wayne and Hillsdale. The demand for cars in which to ship apples and potatoes in that section is unprecedented.

SMITH WILL TRY IT AGAIN.

Auburn, Ind., Oct. 20.—Despite three great disappointments members of the committee of the Auburn Loyal Order of Moose lodge, which had in charge the plans for Art Smith day in Auburn, are negotiating with Mr. Smith for a return engagement here neext Saturday.

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and certainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colds, is really remarkable. You can actually feel it take hold. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you—at a cost of only 54 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.50. Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. Tastes good and never spoils.

You will be pleasantly surprised how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, be sure and ask your druggist for "2½ ounces Pinex," and don't accept anything else.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

Honoring Miss Verne Bowser Miss Nellie Wilt, of Forest Park boulevard, opened her home this afternoon and with Miss Virginia Olds and Miss Irma Poole gave a very pretty tea from 3 to 5 o'clock. In the receiving line with the honor guest and hostesses was Miss Virginia Carey, a recent addition to the young society circle who because of her own charm and as a representative of an early prominent family of the city, is making friends rapidly. Miss Mildred Bowser acted as an usher to the dining room where refreshment was served by Miss Clara Poole, who presided at the table, and by Misses Vera Tresselt and Helen Caldwell. The entire decoration of all the rooms was pink and white cosmos which is in the height of its glory these October days. About forty young women were invited to the tea. Miss Doris Langlois, of Sycamore, Ill., was an out of town guest.

One of the season's most charming young brides is Miss Erin Laughlin, who will wed tomorrow morning in St. Patrick's Catholic church John T. Sullivan, of Richmond. Many parties have been given to honor Miss Laughlin, of which the most recent was a beautiful evening affair at the home of Miss Pauline Pohlmeyer, of Fulton street. There were a number of intimate friends present, of whom Miss Georgiana Lauer, Miss Borgia Lowery and Miss Irene Grimme were assisting hostesses. The entire color plan of this party was in yellow and white and chrysanthemums, tulle bows, yellow candles and place cards in the same coloring all added to the pretty effect. During the evening the company prepared a book of recipes for the bride to take to her new home and use, though she is well skilled in housekeeping ways as it is. Miss Laughlin declared her pleasure would be to concoct the various good things her friends furnished directions for and the book will be another reminder of happy things previous to her marriage. Misses Alba Kessler, Lena Rust, Evelyn Bevington, Loretta Schwartz, Renah Worstein, Ella Wehnert, Helen Gruber, Lillian Pohlmeyer, Mrs. Arthur Mills and Miss Margaret Reed, of New York, made up the company. The wedding of Miss Laughlin and Mr. Sullivan will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock in St. Patrick's Catholic church. Miss Catherine Sullivan, of Richmond, a sister of the groom, and Leo Kahoe, of this city, will be the only attendants of the bride and groom other than the ushers, Will Reece and Edward Kahoe. A number of out-of-town guests who have arrived will be Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. John Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Sullivan, all of Columbus, O.; Mr. and Mrs. William Reece, Miss Catherine Sullivan and Miss Reeda Rittenbaugh, all of Richmond, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Carr, of Pittsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. T. DeWald have come home from an eastern trip.

Dr. and Mrs. Edlavitch have returned from a visit in Norfolk, Va., and in Baltimore.

Mrs. Glenn Ayers, of Montpelier, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. George O. Russell, of South Calhoun street.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thacker, of Frankfort, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cavalier, of Jackson street. The ladies are sisters.

Mrs. Walker and Miss Gladys Walker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., are visiting relatives in the city and will be here for about two weeks.

Mrs. E. W. Fitch, of Jeffersonville, who had been visiting her cousins, the Misses Hood, of West Wayne street, for a week, has returned home.

Misses Anita Cahill and Zelpha Ferries entertained the Thi club at Miss Ferries' home in Central drive, on Friday evening, at a marshmallow bake. All enjoyed a merry time.

Ned Williams celebrated his birthday anniversary on Sunday by entertaining a few boys at dinner at his home in Rockhill street. The guests were Kenneth Crighton, Raymond Druhot, Glenn McCarthy, James Olds, Harold Saylor and James White.

Miss Emma Rurode gave an informal, but delightful entertainment at bridge yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Honeywell, of Wabash, who is visiting Mrs. W. M. Griffin. There were players for five tables. Pink chrysanthemums were an effective decoration.

Miss Charlotte Busse, of North Harrison street, celebrated her sixteenth birth anniversary last Saturday afternoon by entertaining a number of her young friends at a theater party and with refreshments afterwards at Aurents's. The guests were Helen Baral, Ruth Klingman, Florence Wells, Esther Rabus, Louise Busse and Irene Connors.

Miss Marie Soest, whose marriage to Harley H. Smock will take place tomorrow, has chosen as her bridesmaids Miss Bertha Zink, who will be maid of honor; Miss Ruth Smock, a sister to the groom, as bridesmaid. The men of the bridal party will be Carl Soest, as best man; Arthur Altekruse and William Zink as ushers, and Fred Soest, the bride's brother, as groomsman. Rev. J. H. Bosch will be the officiating minister and Mrs. John Rohlman will preside at the organ. A reception will be held at the home of the bride in the country after the wedding service.

Mrs. Amy Randall Seavey has returned from Avilla, where she visited relatives and on Saturday evening arranged a surprise party on her aunt, Mrs. John Hooper, who had attained on that day the eighty-first anniversary of her birth. The guests went prepared with baskets of various and numerous good things for a supper of which all partook and enjoyed. Mrs. Hooper also received many beautiful gifts which she prizes highly. Among the guests were a number from Fort Wayne in addition to Mrs. Seavey, and included her daughter, Mrs. Irma Seavey Merriam, of Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Seavey and children, Mrs. Julia Randall.

How quickly Fort Wayne responds when it is offered a top notch triple bill of vaudeville is reflected by the big houses that have been greeting the extraordinary bill now running at the Temple. The show opens with Onra's remarkable trapeze performance, in which this lovely young woman does some thrilling and spectacular stunts on the short bar. Katherine Moore and Dancing Brownie and Joe Christie present some bits of minstrelsy, including a group of songs by Miss Moore and some superb clog dancing by Brownie and Christie. What is unquestionably one of the most delightful musical acts ever heard is the one done by the Musical Geralds. Baby Helen is one of those vaudeville rarities, a child wonder that truly is a wonder. For fun pure and simple, with no attempt at dignity, Martinez and Maximillian are there. These two clever comedians stage some fake music stuff that is hugely amusing. The week's series of Strand war pictures give some remarkable views of Tremonde after its bombardment.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

There are very few film-plays that can be considered as appealing with equal force to different people with varied tastes, but in "Mother," we find the exception to the rule.

"Mother" will bring back in all their beauty, all their vividness, those cherished memories that lay stilled in the hearts of all of us, it will awaken them into glowing life, thrusting aside the barrier of the years and giving us a look back into the days of our childhood. See this play today, it will make you feel, and remember, and awaken. Its appeal goes straight to the heart, because it tells a story that every man and woman knows, but which many have forgotten.

Emma Dunn in the title role gives a performance that for beautiful fidelity and tenderness of appeal, goes unprecedented. She is assisted by a cast which render support of inapproachable character, while the staging of this deeply moving play reflects brilliantly all of that care and detail that has always characterized the Shubert and Brady productions.

AT THE EMPRESS.

There's no doubt about it—the present Empress bill contains two of the classiest acts ever seen in Fort Wayne. These are James Grady & Co., in "The Toll Bridge" and Russell's Minstrels. And all of the other acts are of superior order.

The sweetest story ever told on a local stage is that told in "The Toll Bridge." The Russell Minstrels are the best in the minstrel line ever seen in Fort Wayne. Cora Greve, the Chicago society prima donna, is singing the song which has been adopted by President Wilson as the peace song for the United States and a souvenir of this song will be presented to everyone who attends the matinee at the Empress Wednesday.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS.

The freshman football team clashed with the senior eleven at Swinney park after school on Monday afternoon. The seniors carried off the honors, yet the "freshies," who were considerably outweighed, put up a stiff fight. The score was, Seniors, 30; Freshmen, 0.

The committee in charge of the sophomore party which is to be given next Friday evening at the high school building, is making plans for the social function, at which all members of the class expect to have a hilarious time. Room No. 15, at one time the gymnasium, but now a recitation room, will be converted into a ball room for the evening, a piano will be moved in, and all sophomores who desire, may dance the tango, the "bear," the "lame duck" or hesitation under the censoring supervisions of the chaperons, who will be there in full force. During the evening light refreshments will be served, various games will be played and other amusements will be furnished. A charge of 25 cents will be levied upon all those who attend in order to defray the expenses of the party.

The meeting of the Mathematics club which was to have been held in room No. 20 of the high school on Friday evening, October 23, has been postponed until Wednesday evening, November 5.

TAFT EXTRACTS A LESSON FROM WAR

Washington, Oct. 20.—The United States senate should draw from the European war a lesson regarding its own conduct, said ex-President William H. Taft in an address here today before the American Bar association. In discussing the charges of violation of treaties by European nations, Mr. Taft said that this country should put itself in such a position that it could fulfill to the letter the obligations imposed by its treaties, and he recommended legislation to that end.

In his address, delivered as president of the American Bar association, Mr. Taft also said that the progressive party was departing from "the preposterous nostrum" of the recall of judicial decisions because it apparently had become a burden to the party.

In speaking of the European war, Mr. Taft said that President Wilson should have the warmest approval and sincerest co-operation in his efforts to maintain the strict neutrality of this country.

"We are the principal nation," he continued, "of the Christian world not so related to the struggle that both sides may really regard us as disinterested friends. It is our highest duty, and the president makes plain his appreciation of this, not to sacrifice and destroy this great leverage for successful mediation, when the opportunity arises, by ill-advised and premature judgments upon the merits. We must hold our tongues to be useful to mankind."

The Country's Obligations.

"And now that we are discussing compliance with treaties and the effect of treaties of arbitration and of peace upon the chances of war, is it not a good time for us to clean our own house and to put ourselves in a position where we can fulfill to the letter every treaty we have entered into. We have made many treaties of friendship and peace—indeed, treaties with all the world—in which we have assured to aliens, subjects or citizens of the other party to the treaty, resident within our borders, due process of law in protection of life, liberty and property. But we now withhold, however, from the same authority that makes the treaty the power to fulfill its obligations. A statute of a dozen lines would put it into the power of the president to institute judicial proceedings, civil and criminal, in courts of the United States to punish a violation of the treaty rights of aliens and enable him to use the civil and military executive arm of the government to protect against their threatened invasion. In our past experience we realize that mob violence committed through race prejudice against aliens will never be punished by state authority, and there is nothing that a highstrung people—and it is peoples now who largely control the matter of war and peace—resents so much as the mistreatment of their fellow countrymen living under the flag of a foreign government that has stipulated and pledged its honor to give them protection."

Not Unconstitutional.

The speaker denied that the granting to the president of such powers as he outlined would be unconstitutional.

Mr. Taft said there were indications that there had been a distinct falling off in support of the proposals for recall of judges and of judicial decisions. These proposals, he said, were incorporated in the platform of the progressive party, whose leader "felt called upon to declare that they were the rock upon which it was founded."

"It would appear," Mr. Taft continued, "that the party which fathered these proposals now finds that instead of being the rock on which it is founded it is, to change the metaphor, the rock on which it founders. Certainly it seems wise to its leaders to ignore this part of their original propaganda, an indication that it has ceased to be vote-getting and indeed has become a burden to any party that assumes to press it."

Turning to the anti-trust legislation of the Wilson administration, Mr. Taft analyzed the trade commission act and the Clayton act.

"In so far as the field of general interstate trade is within the practical range of supervision and regulation," he said, "the machinery adopted, it seems to me, is as effective as any could be." With one minor exception, he added, the field of illegal and criminal effort in respect to restraints of interstate commerce is not enlarged under the new acts, which he characterized as in many respects merely declaratory of existing law.

RAISES PROBLEM THAT IS SERIOUS

The board of works and City Engineer Randall are concerned with the problem of keeping the way to Lindenwood cemetery open when the work of changing the grade and repaving West Main street at the Grand Rapids railroad subway is in progress. To close that thoroughfare would necessitate a long drive to the north and over Spring street bridge and then back to the cemetery entrance. The work will have to be done in sections and the plans for this remain to be worked out.

MAUMEE AVENUE COMPLETED.

By Tuesday evening the Moellering Construction company will have completed the paving of Maumee avenue from Sidney street to the city limits and this will open the eastern entrance of the Lincoln highway to Fort Wayne. The paving of the New Haven road, which is a continuation of Maumee avenue, is almost completed by the Brooks Construction company and that concrete thoroughfare will give traffic from the east a paved way from New Haven to the city's center. There was fear a few weeks ago that the completion of the Maumee avenue contract would be seriously delayed by the failure of the Metropolitan Paving Brick company to deliver brick in Fort Wayne.

The Moellering company will take its paving gang from Maumee avenue to Wayne Trace, which the board of works is determined to have completed this fall.

The work of pouring concrete for the Oneida avenue pavement was begun Tuesday afternoon. This will be the first pavement of the concrete type to be put down in Fort Wayne.

READY TO BEGIN ON BRIDGE.

Work on the reconstruction of the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad bridge at the West Main street subway will be inaugurated at once by the Indiana Engineering and Construction company, which was awarded the contract a few days ago. The old bridge is to be replaced by one much stronger because of the heavier type of locomotives now in use on the Grand Rapids road. The street grade will be depressed eighteen inches under the bridge to allow for the heavy steel I-beams that are to carry the tracks. Heavy concrete abutments will support these. The construction company will place its concrete mixer on flat cars and pour concrete from above, carrying on operations for building the abutments behind the wooden piling that now supports the bridge without disturbing it. The Moellering company has the contract for relocating the grade of the street, paving it and constructing sidewalks. All the cost of the work is to be borne by the railroad.

NO FEAR OF SMALLPOX.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary of the board of health, on Tuesday stated that there was no reason at present to fear an outbreak of smallpox in Fort Wayne. There are no known cases in the city. The last cases reported developed last summer and were taken charge of by the health authorities July 13. Both were on the north side. June 28 a case was reported from Smith street. Prompt action and vigilant watching prevented a spread of the pestilence from those cases and the vigilance, Dr. Gilpin declares, will be employed at all times.

THE BIRTH RECORD.

To Mr. and Mrs. Eppa Meeks, 1865 Wabash avenue—a girl.

To Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kelker, 812 West Third street (at St. Joseph hospital)—a boy.

REPAIRING BIG SEWER.

The Wabash railroad has removed the piling which had been driven into the South Wayne sewer arch at the Taylor street track elevation and is now repairing the masonry. About fifteen feet of the upper part of the arch had fallen. The sewer has been badly crippled for months.

BUILDING PERMITS.

Henry A. Lantz, one-story frame and sheet iron warehouse to Fort Wayne Box company, 108-10-12 West Superior street, $1,600.

APPROVE ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

The board of works has approved assessment rolls for new cement sidewalks on the east side of Webster street, Packard to Darrow; both sides of Monroe street, Washington to Madison, and for paving Eliza street, Francis to Clay.

ST. MARY'S AVENUE PAVED.

After long waiting residents of St. Mary's avenue have realized the improvement of their street. The Grace Construction company has completed the paving of that thoroughfare from Burgess street to Archer avenue and has moved over to Putnam street, which will be completed next week.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE.

It was brought up from the city court where, on March 11, 1914, Addler was found guilty and fined $10 and costs. MAY SHIP RAW SUGAR.

Germany Will Permit Export to Neutral Countries.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Germany will permit the shipment of raw sugar to neutral countries, American Consul Donegan at Magdeburg, Germany, has advised the state department. He states that from 150,000 to 200,000 metric tons of raw sugar is now available and approximately 900,000 tons will be available later. Mr. Donegan advises the use of American vessels for cargoes of raw sugar of German origin. The German beet crop, he reports, is expected to produce a minimum of 2,500,000 tons of raw sugar.

WILLARD UNDER HOT CROSSFIRE

B. & O. President Declares Deals Did Not Cause Rate Raise Need.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Today's hearing before the interstate commerce commission on the application of the eastern railroads for increased freight rates on their contention that financial exigencies brought on by the European war make them needful was devoted largely to a cross-examination of President Willard, of the Baltimore & Ohio, on the relations of that system to the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton.

Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the commission, laid stress on his questions on the B. & O. investment of more than $20,000,000 in the Ohio line and its assumption of obligations of a like amount. The witness said the investment represented only an interest charge of $1,000,000 annually and insisted that would not have affected the present situation of the line.

"If you did not have the C., H. & D. you would have the money you invested, would you not?" suggested Commissioner Meyer.

"Certainly," answered Mr. Willard. He added that he still maintained the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton deal had no bearing on the present need of the railroads for added revenues. He declared the present condition of all railroads was such that they were compelled to allow their rolling stock and roadways to drop below standard.

Taking up statements filed by the carriers to support their plea, Clifford Thorne, appearing for several state railroad commissions and shippers associations, asked Mr. Willard if it were not true that the years picked by the railroads for comparison to show failure of new investments to earn anything were the only years that would show that result. The statement compared figures for 1910 and 1913. Mr. Thorne read figures for 1913 and several other years both before and after 1910 which showed earnings on new capital. Mr. Willard did not challenge the figures read and his cross-examination closed.

Local Retail Merchants' Association Probably Will Take Part.

President Charles A. Niebergall, of the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association, stated Tuesday that he had received no notice from the state association of merchants calling attention to the campaign in the "trade-at-home" campaign launched at Indianapolis and that when the matter comes to him through official sources he will submit it at the first meeting.

There is little doubt in his mind that the members of the local association will enter heartily into any movement that has for its aim the betterment of conditions in Indiana and he also thinks that the plan will be submitted to him in a short time.

Fort Wayne merchants have been specially active in all lines that lead to improved trade conditions and the idea of keeping Indiana money in Indiana will probably appeal to them and if the organization endorses the plan of the state association it is highly probable that no city in the state will show more enterprise than Fort Wayne.

The Fort Wayne association will hold its next business meeting on the evening of November 2 and by that time the president will have been fully advised and will be able to submit the question to his associates.

A Country Party.

A company of friends went to the home of Diedrich Wiese, northeast of New Haven last Friday evening, nothing daunted by the fact that it rained hard. Spokane, Wash., Oct. 20.—Because J. K. Smawley's three pigs multiplied themselves by five during the last year he is $625 richer than he was last October.

Smawley bought three thoroughbred Berkshires at a stock show a year ago; to the same show he brought 15 pigs this fall, the offspring of the original trio. He sold the yearlings for $35 each and kept the mother pigs.

CRUSHED BETWEEN A CAR AND POST

Oliver Cromwell Vernon, a Pennsylvania switchman, was instantly killed at 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, when he was caught between a moving car and one of the supports of a coal bin at the Olds coal yards.

coupling cars and his fate was not known until the mangled body was found by Switchman F. F. Sutton, lying where it had fallen when released by the car, after the engine and string of cars had pulled out of the coal yards. The circumstances indicate that Mr. Vernon was caught between the side of a long car and the post when the space was shortened as the car was passing a curved portion of the track, throwing the center of the body nearer the coal bin than were the ends of the car. The body was horribly crushed by being rolled in the narrow space. Many of the ribs and the spinal column were broken and the skull was crushed, there being a deep hole on the left temple and another on the right side of the head and face.

Coroner Kruse and the police were called and after investigating the conditions at the scene of the accident, had the remains turned over to Getz & Cahill, who took them to their undertaking parlors, where they are being held for instructions from relatives.

So far as known Mr. Vernon had no immediate relatives except a sister, Mrs. Peter Watson, who resides in Coldwater, Mich. She was notified of the accident and later a telegram from her husband stated that he would arrive in Fort Wayne this evening to take charge of the body. Until Mr. Watson arrives, nothing can be done with the funeral arrangements.

Oliver Cromwell Vernon was born in Huntington March 18, 1886, and was past 28 years old. His parents died when he was a child and he was taken and educated by the Lingle school, an orphanage, at Huntington. When he was about 12 years old, C. E. Lewis took him from the orphanage and gave him a home until he was 21 years old, when he came to this city and soon afterwards, on December 16, 1908, he took employment as a yard brakeman with the Pennsylvania. April 20, 1910, he was promoted to yard conductor and was reduced to switchman a few months ago when it became necessary to reduce the yard force on account of a falling off in business.

A letter from his sister, which arrived here this morning and was opened by the coroner, makes inquiry concerning "Uncle Jim" and if he still lived at Andrews. In his application for employment with the Pennsylvania Mr. Vernon named J. B. Vernon, of Huntington county, as his nearest to kin, and it is probable that it is this man that Mrs. Watson inquires about.

The deceased was unmarried and during the entire time of his residence in Fort Wayne he made his home with Mrs. Celeste Stewart, of 434 Baker street. He was a member of Fort Wayne lodge, No. 136, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Ben-Hur lodge, No. 15; Fort Wayne lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose, and Our Home lodge, No. 881, I. O. O. F. He had not, however, taken all the degrees in the Odd Fellows order, receiving the second last Friday and making application for the remaining degrees to be received during October.

Other members of the crew in which Mr. Vernon was working Monday were Conductor C. H. Myers, Engineer C. L. Kruse, Fireman G. L. Sweaney and Brakeman F. F. Sutton.

BOOMING THE EXCURSION.

Frank D. Parmin, district passenger agent of the Nickel Plate, is one of the busiest men in this part of the country. In addition to his regular business, he is circulating much of the time among the people living in the towns along the railway talking Cleveland excursion to them. And Mr. Parmin says he finds them willing to listen. The excursion next Saturday, while it may not eclipse some of its predecessors in a numerical way, will have them all beat in the way of amusement features at Cleveland for the excursionists. To the sport-loving man an interesting feature will be a foot ball game between the Chase and the Wooster university boys Saturday afternoon. The special train will leave Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock Saturday morning and arrive in Cleveland at 1 o'clock.

WABASH'S NEW TIME CARD.

Agent F. C. Eggers, of the Wabash, this morning received an outline of a time card which will become effective on that road next Sunday. Announcing that local trains 50, 53, 54 and 55, which run between this city and Montpelier, will be dropped from service, the statement is made that through trains 28, 1, 3 and 4 will handle the local business between the points named and that the time of each will be slightly changed. No. 28 will be due at Fort Wayne at 10 o'clock, No. 1 at 1 o'clock, No. 4 about 5:30 and No. 3 at 9:53, the same as at present. No. 4 will be consolidated at Montpelier with Chicago train No. 6 and the two will run as one train into Detroit.

NO BOWLING LEAGUE THIS YEAR.

Owing to the fact that many of the employes of the Electric works are already members of city bowling teams the efforts to organize a league at that institution was fruitless and the matter will be dropped for the time being, at least. However, individual clubs from some of the departments will be organized and games will be played at different times during the season. A team of office employes, under the captaincy of L. German, is ready and anxious to meet any other team which may be organized among employes of the Electric works.

DANCE AND EUCHRE PARTY.

The Meat Cutters have decided to add card playing to the entertainment they will give at Tanner's hall Wednesday evening, Nov. 18. The committee in whose hands the affair has been placed, is composed of George Feuchter, chairman; Chris Kessen, Frank A. Miller, Frank Gessinger and Henry Koers.

Many shipments of salmon are being made to the eastern markets at present, the fish going in car load lots in refrigerator cars. No. 2, on the Nickel Plate, had a car load yesterday, and No. 4 carried another car load, the former to Boston and the latter to New York.

SLOT MACHINE MAN IS UNDER ARREST

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 20.—Lloyd W. Yount, who gives his residence as Muncie, Ind., was arrested in this city last evening on a warrant issued by Prosecutor Will W. Reller, charging an attempt to bribe Mayor W. W. Robbins, of Richmond. Yount is an agent for a slot machine company. Believing Prosecutor Reller was the mayor's secretary, and that the bribe he offered was acceptable, it is charged he asserted to Reller, according to the latter, that he had recently completed "making arrangements" with Mayor Rollin Bunch, of Muncie, for the operation of slot machines in that city.

After Mayor Robbins and Prosecutor Reller had led Yount to believe that they had accepted his offer to pay the mayor $25 a week for the first three weeks the machines were in use in Richmond, and $60 a week thereafter as long as the machines were in operation here, Yount paid Reller $10 as a guarantee of good faith, according to the prosecutor.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 20.—Mayor Rollin Bunch, when informed of the statements made by Lloyd W. Yount when he was arrested at Richmond, denied that he knew anything about any slot machine "arrangements." He asserted he never had dealings with Yount.

MADE-IN-AMERICA PLAN WINS FAVOR

National Movement Winning Support from Every Section.

New York, Oct. 20.—An enthusiasm greater than was hoped for even by the most sanguine of the incorporators has greeted the natin-wide "Made in America" movement recently launched by the "Made in America" Products association. From all parts of the country have come letters and telegrams containing words of commendation and inquiries regarding membership. More than 100 firms have indicated their interest in the movement and letters have been received from manufacturers and business men in all lines, publishers, manufacturers' associations and labor organizations, club women and ministers. One minister proposes to preach a sermon on the subject and several women's clubs have indorsed the movement and will enlist members throughout the country under the "Made in America" flag.

At the headquarters of the organization, 116 Broadway, New York, it was stated yesterday that while the activities of the association have so far been confined to New York city and its environs, letters have been received from as far west as California. The directors hope to start with the territory outside New York city this week.

Harry Tipper, of the Texas company, president of the Advertising Men's league and a member of the executive committee of the "Made in America" Products association, Inc., issued a statement yesterday regarding the work being done and planned by the association. He said:

"During the past few months the newspapers and magazines have devoted much space to the slogan, 'Made in America,' and when our association was incorporated, that title naturally suggested itself. Since then we have received quite a few letters suggesting that 'Made in U. S. A.' would be more appropriate. The matter will be given careful consideration by the members of the association, but the important point that we wish to impress upon the consumer, both at home and abroad, is that no matter under what slogan they are offered, American-made goods are equal, if not superior, to those of European manufacture. We are appealing to Americans to buy American-made goods, not for patriotic or sentimental reasons, but because we know they will get as good if not better values than if they bought foreign-made products. We have in this country the best workmen and specialists in the world. Many of them received their early training in European workshops, and know their secrets, as well as those of the Americans. Therefore, they are able to produce better goods.

"The exalted position that many Americans give to European products is not justified by facts. Why, I know of several instances wherein American manufacturers place a foreign stamp on their goods and thereby find a more ready sale for them. One of the primary objects of our organization is to disabuse the public mind of the fact that a foreign stamp makes for a better product.

"When the war in Europe started a great hue and cry went up that numerous American industries would be forced to close down because they could not procure certain materials made in Europe. I know of one case of a manufacturer of enameled signs who was ready to quit because he had always secured a certain pigment from Europe. He went to his laboratory in despair only to learn that his chief chemist had been experimenting and had produced a pigment better than that which they had been using. The factory is running at full capacity today. We Americans are, in many respects, too diffident. We have depended so long upon Europe for certain things and it is so easy to get them there that we have continued to do so, instead of manufacturing them at home.

"One point that I would like to emphasize particularly is that this 'Made in America' movement is not a hysterical, sensational idea. It is a great educational movement that will take much time and hard work. The incorporators have volunteered to shoulder the leadership, but they will need the help of every one, for every one will be benefited. We want suggestions of all kinds, for we shall need them. It took Europe years to gain its prestige. It will take us a long time to establish ours. We have the advantage of being the one country in the world in the position to do it just now. The movement is not directed against any nation, but in the interest of the United States of America. The opportunity that has presented it to us is not of our making, yet we would be foolish to ignore it."

That the activities of the association have been cabled abroad is indicated by a letter received from a firm in Ivanovo, Voznesensk, Russia, in which the writer says:

"Every kind of goods which we had received from Germany are now stopped because of the war. Perhaps you can aid me by sending me the addresses of American firms making aniline dyes and also electric lamps of any kind. I am willing to pay in advance."

Carl Fox, 2126 Oakley street, was removed to his home Monday afternoon from the St. Joseph hospital, where he has been a patient for several weeks, as a result of some injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident. In the collision Mr. Fox was blinded by dust and his foot was badly crushed.

Judge John W. Eggeman, of the Allen circuit court, will preside on Friday evening at the Majestic theater on which occasion Governor Samuel M. Ralston will be the principal speaker.

Plans for the gathering were discussed at a meeting between District Chairman Edward G. Hoffman, County Chairman W. A. Johnson and a number of the candidates at democratic headquarters Tuesday afternoon and plans for the gathering were completed.

In addition to Governor Ralston, Hon. Thomas Taggart, who is making his debut as a campaign orator and who has never before been on a speaking tour in all the years that he had been a leading spirit in Indiana politics will be heard as will W. H. O'Brien, auditor of state.

Democrats of Allen county have decided to make this the really big meeting of the campaign and there is little doubt that the Majestic theater will be packed to hear the able discussions of politics that will be heard on the occasion.

A parade for which a great number of automobile owners have offered the use of their machines, the Jefferson drum corps and a big turnout of democrats will be the main features of the celebration. Governor Ralston has not made a great number of speeches during the present campaign and the local democratic organization considers itself extremely lucky that he was secured for Fort Wayne.

Arranging for Cline Meeting.

At democratic headquarters Tuesday plans were started for the first of the Cline meetings which is scheduled for the assembly room of the courthouse on the evening of Monday, Oct. 26. Mr. Cline has just notified Maurice Niezer, of the speakers' bureau, that he will be here at that time.

He will speak in Steuben county and will close the campaign with an address at Angola on the evening of Oct. 31 and has placed his other time at the disposal of the Allen county chairman.

The question of who will preside at the meeting in Fort Wayne and who the other speakers of the evening will be are matters that are to be taken up at once and disposed of so that arrangements can be perfected and the entire program given out.

Democratic leaders were pleased to hear of the coming of Mr. Cline, and will probably make some other dates for him in Fort Wayne and at points in Allen county.

A meeting has been arranged for Iroquois hall on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, and the speakers will be Phillip Zoercher, candidate for reporter of the Indiana supreme court; C. M. Niezer and A. M. Groves.

Mossman Will Preside.

Austin W. Stults, who is preparing the program for the meeting at the Majestic theater Thursday evening when Senator William E. Borah will deliver an address, announced on Tuesday that B. Paul Mossman would be the chairman at the gathering.

Arrangements are under way for a parade to precede the address and committees will be appointed to meet the speaker and escort him to the hotel and the trains.

Mr. Stults also announces that he is arranging for the postal employes' association to meet Mr. Borah and extend him the thanks of the organization for his efforts in securing the passage of legislation for their benefit. This meeting will take place at the Anthony hotel.

Drum Corps to Attend.

Thursday evening at the Brown Trucking company's barn, Ninth ward; Welck's livery barn, Hanna street; Fourth ward, on Fairfield avenue; Ralston meeting, Friday evening; Monroeville Saturday night, and the Marshall meeting one week from Saturday night. The drum corps, democratic speakers and others who will attend the Monroeville meeting will leave by interurban at 8 o'clock, leaving Monroeville at 9:15 for the return trip.

Word has been received in this city of the death of O. E. White, a former resident of Fort Wayne, who died at the family home at Lima, Ohio, Sunday evening at the age of sixty years. Mr. White was formerly a railroad conductor and was well known here.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Although wheat developed some weakness today in the early dealings, the market afterward showed a decided rally. After opening ½c off to ⅛c up, the market suffered a material decline all around and then recovered, with May scoring a fresh gain, but December not keeping pace.
The close was weak, 1⅝c to 1⅞c net lower.
Favorable weather eased up corn. The opening, which ranged from ⅛c lower to ⅝c rise, was followed by a moderate general sag.
The close was weak at ⅝c to ¾c under last night.
Profit taking by longs had a depressing effect on oats. Price changes, however, were narrow.
Lower quotations for hogs carried down provisions. Difficulty in making shipments to Holland, was also an adverse influence especially on lard.

phia; C. A. Severance, New York, and David A. Reed, Pittsburg. George Welwood Murray, New York, will argue in behalf of John D. Rockefeller and his son who, along with Andrew Carnegie, George W. Perkins, E. H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab, Henry C. Frick and others are individual defendants.
F. R. Kellogg, of New York, will speak briefly for the James J. Hill interests.
The Hill interests are involved in the case through the lease by the Steel corporation of ore beds in the northwest. Since the institution of the suit this lease has been cancelled and Mr. Kellogg said he did not see the necessity of his appearance except to touch on certain law points in connection with the lease.
The suit was filed in the United States court for the district of New Jersey on Oct. 26, 1911, and was transferred to Philadelphia for argument before judges of the Third judicial circuit. The government asks that the greatest corporation in the world, in point of capitalization be broken up into the numerous companies that had been merged illegally, the government alleged, into the gigantic concern.

The brief filed by the United States steel corporation reviewing the law which the government applies to the case and also reviewing the evidence, declares that what competition existed among the companies acquired by the big corporation was greatly limited. It is declared that the steel corporation's proportion of the country's total production of finished products in 1901, when the corporation was formed was only 50.1 per cent; that it has since been reduced to 45.7 per cent of the country's production for all the markets of the world and to 30.9 per cent of the total production for the domestic market.
The steel corporation's supply of ore in the Lake Superior district constituted only 43 per cent of the total amount of ore in the ranges of that district known in 1901, the brief states; that the corporation's present supply there constitutes only 36 per cent, and that of the total ores available for American iron and steel manufacturers the ores of the Lake Superior district constitute a small fraction.

In denying that the steel corporation suppressed competition, the brief states that the organization of the company was but a natural and normal development from existing trade and manufacturing conditions.
The brief calls attention to the corporation's successful efforts in building up a large foreign trade for American iron and steel products and states that the records do not show a single instance of freight rebates having been asked or given by the steel corporation or its subsidiaries since the organization of the big concern. With respect to its employes, the brief says the corporation has reduced wages only once during the whole period of its existence and that this was occasioned by a severe business depression in 1904 and since its formation the wages of the corporation's employes have been increased on the average of 28.5 per cent.

The Price of Its Products.

The price of its products, the brief continues, is shown to have decreased on the average about $8 a ton since it was formed. It was also shown that the price of steel products as compared with other commodities, the brief adds, has diminished 10.5 per cent. since the corporation was formed and since 1903 has been less in the United States than in either England or Germany. The brief denies the allegations that the steel corporation took advantage of the 1907 panic to acquire control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. The brief declares that Tennessee was not a substantial competitor of the steel corporation because it had never been a success; that the steel corporation had declined repeated offers of the Tennessee property and reiterates the former statements of the corporation that the stock was taken over only when it became apparent that nothing else would save Moore & Schley, the New York firm, from failure and prevent the spread of the panic. Evidence shows, the brief sums up, "that no artificial barriers exist in the steel trade; that for nearly ten years competitive conditions had been ideal, and that under these conditions new competitors have grown up and expanded, products have improved, prices have declined and trade has flourished as never before."

What Government Asks.

The court is asked by the government to divide under independent ownership the following companies controlled by the Steel corporation: The Carnegie Steel company of New Jersey, National Steel company, American Steel Hoop company, American Sheet and Tinplate company, American Tinplate company, American Sheet Steel company, Federal Steel company, American Steel and Wire company, National Tube company, Shelby Steel Tube company and the American Bridge company.
The court is also asked to make independent the Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, the Duluth, Missabe and Northern Railroad Co., the Tennessee Coal and Iron Railway Co., Union Steel Co. and the Clairton Steel Co., and that the ore and coal properties of the Union Steel corporation other than those of the Tennessee company be divided among the Clairton, Union and new concerns to be crated in proportion to their capacity for the production of steel.
The court is further asked to decree that "Andrew Carnegie was a party to the unlawful combination of properties through the United States Steel corporation and took the bonds of the corporation with all the infirmities attaching to such participation."
Finally the court is asked to appoint a receiver to take over all of the properties owned or controlled by the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiaries for the purpose of making effective the decree of the court; that the receiver recover from the syndicate subscribers and promoters and others who were parties to the alleged unlawful combination the difference between the par value of the stock received by them and the cash value of the properties or the services given therefor, so that restitution so far as possible may be made to the other stockholders. The testimony taken in the case is contained in fifty-five printed volumes, each an inch thick. The government's brief, a formidable paper of more than 900 printed pages, which has been filed, reviews the evidence in the case and argues the law points involved. Much of the space of the brief is given up to the Steel corporation's acquisition of the majority of the stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company. The government alleges that E. H. Gary and Henry Frick, directors in the big corporations who went to President Roosevelt to see whether the government would object to the corporation taking over the Tennessee company, misrepresented to the president the amount of stock held by Moore and Schley, the New York firm, which the corporation sought to purchase during the panic of 1907. The government's brief declares that the real object of the Steel corporation in purchasing the Tennessee stock was not to help Moore & Schley out of financial difficulties, but to obtain absolute control of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company property.

They declare that Villa's soldiers, who are in Aguas Calientes as escorts to the chiefs of Villa's army, rob them and insult them in the streets. They ask that Aguas Calientes and surrounding territory be declared neutral during the convention or that the convention be removed to Mexico City.

Orders Train Stopped.

Antonio II Billareal, president of the convention, today ordered that a train bearing E. C. Llorente, Carlos Dominguez, Manual Bonilla and Andreas Cuzman to the border be stopped. These men were released from prison in Mexico City last night by order of the Aguas Calientes convention and were to be permitted to go to Villa territory. They were arrested on charges of attempting to incite rebellion against Carranza. It is expected they are to be held as hostage pending further action by Villa.

SMOOTH CIGAR THIEF LANDED

Charles Williams, alias Harris, alias Davis, a cigar thief of clever attainments and a criminal record, was arraigned in the city court Tuesday morning on a charge of petit larceny and continued until October 26 under $300 bond which he could not furnish. Williams on Monday about noon stole nine boxes of a well-known brand of ten-cent cigars from the salesrooms of the Wayne Tobacco company, on East Washington boulevard, and two boxes of an equally well-known brand of ten-cent cigars from the tobacco department of A. H. Perfect & Company on Columbia street. He represented himself as a cigar salesman, talked the business glibly and with knowledge and was given privileges in stockrooms not usually accorded a stranger. How he got out with his bundles and escaped detection is more or less of mystery, but he did it. He went to the Ely cigar store on Calhoun street and offered cigars for sale at a figure that caused surprise. This caused an inquiry to be made at the house jobbing that brand in the city. Investigation disclosed the robbery. Report was made to the police and Chief Lenz started an investigation and the robbery at Perfect's was first made known in that way. It was learned that Williams had made an appointment to deliver some cigars at the Frank cigar store, corner of Calhoun and Jefferson streets, and Detective Sergeant Joseph Brennan was sent there. The officer had just got inside the store when Williams arrived with his bundle of cigars and was arrested. At headquarters he put up a bold front, said he was a cigar agent and that in his work was given an allowance of goods for the "boomer trade" —that is, cigars to be given away introducing the goods. He said he had run short of money and was disposing of his road stock to raise a bit of ready cash. His stock, he said, he had had out with him for three months, but the revenue stamps bore the perforated date of October 2, 1914. When shown this evidence, Williams wilted and confessed. He admits having twice done time for the same offense he committed here. He is a young man of about 22 years and dresses well. He had been stopping at the Anthony, sharing another man's room and was not registered.

Despoilers of Girls Bound Over.

Walter Wells and William Bobb, charged with criminal assault on Susie Fisher and Margaret Toensing, 15-year-old girls whom they took automobile riding on the night of September 25 and abused, waived arraignment, pleaded not guilty and were held to the circuit court under bonds of $1,000 each. Little testimony was taken and that merely to prove the ages of the girls. To the officers and prosecutor the young men have told stories that make no denial of their guilt.

Other City Court Cases.

Jim Freeman, the young criminal captured Monday by Officers Clark and Lawhead of the Pennsylvania railway police after a long chase, was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery and continued until October 26. His bond was fixed at $200. Frank Ward, arrested Monday as a witness, was released on his own recognizance.

Fred Snow, Fred O'Connor and John Elvin, drunks, were continueed under bonds of $25 each for appearance later in the week.

John Van Allen, thought to have been stealing cheap jewelry from a ten-cent store on Calhoun street, pleaded guilty to drunkenness and drew $1 and costs.

RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED.

The residence of J. C. Braeuer, 1232 Fairfield avenue, was burglarized between midnight and 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and $72 cash was taken. The robbery was discovered by Albert Braeuer, a son, who was awakened from his sleep by the noise of the thief passing through the house. The back door, of which the lock had evidently been picked, was found open. Four pairs of trousers taken from different parts of the second floor of the house were found below where the thief had left them after rifling the pockets. A gold watch at first thought to have been stolen was found later. The larger part of the stolen money belonged to Albert Braeuer.

UNDERGOING AN INSPECTION

Local G. I. A. to the B. L. E. is Entertaining Grand Officer.

Mrs. J. W. Garrett, of Cleveland, an official of the national body of the Grand International Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, is in Fort Wayne to inspect Friendship division No. 16, and Nickel Plate division No. 513, in ritualistic work, constitution and by-laws. She arrived here early yesterday afternoon, attended a social given by Friendship division in the afternoon and spent the evening at the Young Women's Christian association headquarters, on West Wayne street, greeting the auxiliary ladies who called to see her.

The inspection of the two divisions will consume two days. It began at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Friendship division, at the hall at 1018 Calhoun street and continued throughout the day, with a short intermission for luncheon at noon. This evening there will be an informal reception at that hall for Mrs. Garrett. Tomorrow she will inspect Nickel Plate division, No. 513, at the hall on West Main and Cherry street, where the program will be the same as at the hall of Friendship division.

Thursday night the two auxiliary divisions will join in a banquet at the Anthony hotel in honor of their distinguished guest. None but auxiliary ladies are expected to participate in this entertainment, but as there are upwards of 175 members in the two lodges, it is presumed that at least 150 will attend the banquet and covers for that number have been engaged. The committee on arrangements for this and other entertaining features during the stay of Mrs. Garrett is composed of Mesdames P. Carter, Chester Durnell and C. F. Somers, of Friendship division, and Mesdames T. E. Short, M. J. Maroney and F. M. Baldwin, of Nickel Plate division.

Mrs. Garrett is just finishing the inspection work. Fort Wayne being among the last cities visited. She inspected the divisions at Bellevue, Lima and other cities in northern Ohio last week. She is a member of one of the important committees of the grand lodge of the G. I. A and upon her return to Cleveland will immediately take up the clerical and other work connected with her office and will be thus engaged until the triennial meeting of the B. L. E. and the G. I. A. to the B. L. E. in Cleveland next May.

Mrs. Garrett belongs to a family of railroaders. Her husband and one of her sons are engineers on the Pennsylvania, running in and out of Cleveland; another son is a conductor on the same road; another is connected with the auditing department of the Baltimore and Ohio company, while the fourth is engaged in the automobile business in a western city. In speaking of the coming biennial convention, Mrs. Garrett said there would be in the neighborhood of 6,000 delegates at the two conventions. "Everywhere, except in Mexico, where war has been in progress two or three years, the membership of the G. I. A. to the B. L. E. will show an increase over three years ago, when the last convention was held," she said. Mrs. Garrett will leave Friday for her home in Cleveland. She has been connected with the national body of the auxiliary for a number of years, either as delegate, member of committee or in other capacity and has met a number of members from Fort Wayne at the meetings. She received the appointment of inspector of ritualistic and other work in the divisions three years ago.

TRIBUTE TO THOMAS EDISON.

Today is the thirty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the incandescent lamp, and the day is being celebrated in honor of the great inventor, Thomas Edison, by the General Electric Lamp club, of which Joe Noll is the vice president. For the occasion Mr. Noll has written a poem, entitled "Edisonism," which The Sentinel reproduces as follows:

"Let us have light and better light,"
Said Thomas Edison.
When he brought forth his carbon lamp
October twenty-one,
Since eighteen hundred seventy-nine,
His name by all is hold sublime.
From him all nations have had light,
And nightfall brings to us no fright.
The Edison lamp will set you right—
The Mazda ray the only light.

"For five and thirty years or more
His service has been at your door.
Get Mazda lamps, they cost no more;
Most people buy them by the score,
And with them do their homes adore.
The price is within the reach of all,
The cost to burn is very small,
So don't scratch matches on the wall;
The Edison lamp is cure for all."

The assembly room of the Fort Wayne Electric works, where the moving pictures depicting activities at the Ford Automobile works were given last evening, was inadequate to the demand and it is estimated that upwards of 200 people were turned away, although there were two shows, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 8:30 o'clock. At the latter entertainment the Bowser Efficiency club members were special guess, going out to the 'Lights after holding the regular monthly meeting last evening, using 12 automobiles in making the trip from the Bowser plant to the 'Lights. Harry Baals, chairman of the program committee, estimates the attendance at the show at between 400 and 500. The entertainment, treating as it did on a most opportune and important question, was one of the most interesting and instructive entertainments ever given by the Electra-Technic club and more of its character will be given later if possible. The first film showed the "Making of a Piston;" the second, the "Assembly of Ford Cars," and the third the "Making of an American," or what three months in the United States under the profit-sharing plan in the Ford factory does for the foreigner. The films were obtained through the courtesy of C. H. Willis, of the Ford firm.

TESTING DAVIS TRACK TANK.

Tests are under way today at the Davis track tank on the Pennsylvania to determine at what speed a locomotive must move over the tanks to get the best results in filling the tank. This track tank, and one at Dola, have been in service a number of years and all of the fast train locomotives take water there while moving at a speed of upwards of thirty-five miles an hour. In the tests today engine 7070 is being used and is being sent over the tracks many times, running at different speed each time. The testing party is composed of Trainmaster C. L. Hamilton, Road Foreman of Engines C. L. Comey and Assistant Master Mechanic E. E. Dildine.

The announcement by some of the city papers yesterday that Messrs. T. W. Demarest, W. L. Wilt, O. J. Parks and W. A. Instead these gentlemen are attending a meeting of the executive board of the Master Car Builders' association, which is being held in New York. The American Gas association is also holding a meeting in New York and is being attended by O. O. Thwing and S. E. Mulholland.

After the main lecture, four ten-minute papers were read by G. S. Bacon, L. F. Bartels, H. H. Hinkle and J. F. Ferrell.

Conductors E. J. Harper and George Harper and E. J. McCruden, lumber purchasing agent of the Nickel Plate, have been at Lake James two or three days fishing, and as usual McCruden pulled off a funny stunt, the news of which is just being circulated among his friends. While the Harpers were fishing one hooked a fish which baffled all efforts to land him. Mac was in another boat nearby, and calling to the Harpers to hang onto the fish until he got the gaff hook, he started for the cottage, a half mile away. "Now pull him in gentle until I can sink this hook in him," said Mac, as he posed for the plunge. Mr. Harper pulled long and steady and soon one of the branches of a sunken tree appeared. "Goll darn the luck, anyway," said Mac, as he threw the gaff hook into the boat and grabbed the oars. "I thought you had a twenty-pound pike."

EDISON'S ASSOCIATE COMING.

Will Give Interesting Lecture at Elks' Temple.

Many men connected with Fort Wayne manufacturing plants, especially those of the Fort Wayne Electric works, S. F. Bowser & Co., Bass Manufacturing company, the railroad shops and other institutions, will doubtless be present at the Elks' temple on Saturday, October 24th, to see the demonstration of the practical uses of the gyroscope, the monorail car and the ultra-violet ray, to be given by Professor Montraville Wood, a former associate of Thomas A. Edison. Professor Wood has a new and very entertaining lecture which he has prepared from his thirty-five eventful years of experience.

The admission price is fifty cents, although the Young Men's Forward congress, under whose auspices the lecture is given, has arranged that the payment of one dollar will entitle a person to a membership ticket for the remaining five numbers.

ADOPT PLANS FOR HARRISON BRIDGE

Commissioners to Receive Bids November 19 on Grosvenor Plans.

The county commissioners on Wednesday approved and adopted the plans drawn by Engineer A. W. Grosvenor for the bridge that is to span the St. Mary's river at Harrison street. Bids for the construction of the bridge according to these plans will be received at 10 o'clock in the morning of Thursday, November 19. Engineer Grosvenor's plans provide for the longest and finest bridge that, when it is completed, shall have been constructed in Fort Wayne. Its total length will be 336 feet, with one 136-foot span and four 50-foot spans. The long span will carry the bridge over the normal channel of the stream and the short arches will support it over the flat ground to the north. In physical quality and architectural character the bridge will surpass any similar structure now in the city. It will have bush-hammered facings on its vertical planes, the balustrades will be of white cement and the handrails will be faced with marble chips in concrete. Artistic contrasts will be afforded by this treatment. In capacity for flood flow the bridge will be able to meet any contingencies. The tops of the arches are to be built several feet above the flood stage of March, 1913, and it will afford 50 per cent more capacity for flow than the Wells street bridge. Engineer Grosvenor has dealt consummately with peculiar problems raised by certain physical conditions and flood contingencies and has produced plans for a most stately structure. The bridge will be built next year.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

William Parvin Marries Same Wife Twice and Confesses Failure.

William A. Parvin was twice wedded to Susie A. Parvin and after a trial of three and one-half years on the second venture confesses that it is a failure and again is seeking a divorce. He says she neglects her household duties, goes out at night and leaves her children while she visits winerooms with men, has repeatedly told him that she did not care for him and hoped he would get killed and would not live with him as his wife any longer. They were divorced in January, 1911, were remarried in March, 1911, and separated in February, 1914. They have four children aged, respectively, 17, 14, 10 and 6 years. On the occasion of the previous divorce the custody of the children was given to the husband and three of them are now in his care. This last suit is filed in the superior court.

Now Wants a Divorce.

Ethel Tatner has brought suit in the superior court for divorce from William H. Tatner, alleging her husband to be a habitual drunkard and that he has subjected her to physical violence, failed properly to provide for her, has squandered $1,000 of her money and called her vile names. She applied some time ago to have a guardian appointed for him. She says he has $3,500 deposited in the People's Trust company, and an order has been issued tying the sum up until the case is disposed of. They were married in 1909 and separated a day or two ago.

Notes of the Courts.

The jury in the circuit court returned a verdict Tuesday evening, after short deliberation, finding Oscar Addler guilty of selling milk that contained visible dirt. He was fined $10 and costs, the same penalty that was inflicted by the city court, a judgment from which Addler took an appeal.

Judge Yaple in the superior court has appointed Oscar E. Scott receiver for Oliver J. Harper and others to administer property against which Wesley D. Rhoades was given judgment for $50.55 on foreclosure of a mechanic's lien and George H. Hilker, on cross-complaint, was given judgment for $1,392.80 on foreclosure of mortgage. The property being insufficient to meet both judgments the receiver was directed to administer it and collect the rentals during the period of redemption.

The circuit court put in Wednesday hearing the case of Harry Evans, a negro charged with housebreaking. A jury heard the case and retired late in the afternoon. Evans is charged with stealing clothing from the home of Prof. H. A. Popp, on West Wayne street.

New Plan of Salvation Army Fails to Meet Demands.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21.—The Salvation Army, which incorporated Monday under California laws, does not thereby meet the demands of the municipal charities committee of Los Angeles, it was announced here today. Dr. Milbank Johnson, head of the committee, said all the directors must be approved by Los Angeles business men.

The Salvation Army officers have so far refused to have their corporation controlled by other than organization members. They also claim the right to send out of the city certain funds collected for religious purposes to meet the overhead expense of the national body.

Mauretania and Olympic Say Good-bye to American Waters.

New York, Oct. 21.—The sailing today for Liverpool of the steamships Mauretania of the Cunard line and the White Star liner Olympic marked the last appearance of these ships in an American port for an indefinite period. According to officials of the line, the falling off in trans-Atlantic travel, due mainly to the war, has made it advisable that the ships be laid up for a time.

The Baltic of the White Star line also sailed today for Liverpool. The three ships carried close to 400 passengers booked in cabin accommodations.

She said her brother insisted on sailing with her and to do so would have ruined his career as he could not return for some time. For the sake of her brother she abandoned the trip.
